MICHELLER BROTHERS COMPETE IN WHITE CASTLE BOY SCOUT CHESS TOURNAMENT

The Scotch Plains Baptist Church was the site for the latest Boy Scouts Chess Tournament sponsored by White Castle. The tournament was open to all registered Boy Scouts, Venturers and Explorers. This was the second annual tournament for the Watchung Mountain District. Brothers Zack and Max Micheller of New Providence Troop 63 competed.

Robert Mehorter of Scotch Plains won third place honors. Second place was won by Harrison Hahne-Lum of Springfield and first place went to Kevin Cavicchia of Summit, who won all four of his games.

White Castle purchased 20 sets, boards and clocks for the Boy Scouts and will continue to sponsor tournaments in all seven Boy Scout Districts in New Jersey.

The company covered expenses for running the tournament including trophies for the top three winners and ribbons for participants. They also supplied lunch for all players and spectators. White Castle will continue to support the Boy Scouts and the Chess program. The Program is coordinated by Joe Renna of Renna Media, a Chess Merit Badge Counselor.

...that's what The Community Service Association of New Providence (CSA) is all about. Founded back in 1954, CSA members believe this not-for-profit organization that helps New Providence residents in need was the first organization of its kind. The CSA serves New Providence residents who are in financial crisis while respecting the family's or individual's dignity; all cases are handled on an anonymous basis.

The CSA has assisted with paying rent, utility, medical bills, recreation, and much more for Boro residents in need. Client families also receive food items from an annual food drive as well as holiday gifts donated by local businesses and residents through the CSA's Holiday Wish List program.

Lisa McKnight, President of the CSA, said, "The CSA is the perfect extension of New Providence's compassionate and generous residents." She continued, "As a community we are always ready to lend a hand, and the CSA makes it possible to do that." McKnight invites anyone who would like to get involved with the CSA to visit the group's web site - www.csanewprovidence.org. Donors are also welcome to make a financial contribution online via PayPal.

CSA meetings take place on the second Wednesday of each month; the next one is on Wednesday, January 13th, 2016 at the DeCorso Community Center. The CSA will soon be hosting its annual fundraising pasta dinner. All are welcome to participate!

TOYS FOR TOTS DROP

The New Providence Police Department, will once again, be a drop location for the Toys for Tots program.

Through December 14th, please drop a new, unwrapped toy at the collection box inside the main entrance of Borough Hall.

There has been tremendous success with this program over the years, and we ask for your continued assistance to bring smiles to those children less fortunate. Assisting with program are the New Providence Police and New Providence Office of Emergency Management.

LIONS HOLIDAY RAFFLE & PARTY DECEMBER 16TH 7PM

Each year the New Providence Lions Club sponsors a 50-50 holiday raffle with a guarantee of over $5,000.00 of prize money. This year's Christmas party is scheduled for December 16th. Tickets are only $5.00 each and we encourage all of you to participate along with us.

Our 46,000 clubs and 1.35 million members make us the world's largest service club organization. We're also one of the most effective. Our members do whatever is needed to help their local communities. Everywhere we work, we make friends. With children who need eyeglasses, with seniors who don't have enough to eat and with people we may never meet.

EATING DISORDERS PROGRAM AT OVERLOOK EXPANDS TO NEW AGE GROUP

When a formerly happy and healthy eight-year-old girl suddenly refuses to eat or drink because voices in her head tell her eating is bad, her parents—and the entire community—must confront the new face of eating disorders.

But this dark problem has a solution.

The Eating Disorders Program at Overlook Medical Center, which already operates New Jersey's only program devoted exclusively to adolescents, has recently expanded to serve patients age 8 to 12 with anorexia nervosa, bulimia, and related disorders. Thanks to community donors, Overlook Foundation has nearly completed a $1.8 million effort to support additional physicians, psychiatrists, psychologists, child life specialists, nurses, social workers, and nutritionists to treat this emerging patient group.

Overlook's program uses an evidence-based, family-centered protocol that offers these children outpatient and inpatient placement, if needed. Based on studies that indicate parental involvement is crucial, Overlook's program has achieved a greater than 85 percent success rate. It keeps children with their families and in their communities as they heal.

To support the program, call Connie Adams at 908.522.2836, e-mail her at constance.adams@atlantichhealth.org, or go to www.overlookfoundation.org/online-donations. To talk to an eating disorders specialist, call Overlook Medical Center at 908-522-5757.

CLASSMATES CELEBRATE JUDO CHAMP

Written by Eman Elmahroukey

Noran Elmahroukey is a 13-year old American judoka currently living in New Providence, New Jersey and competing in the 40 kg weight category. Noran started judo under the guidance of two-time U.S. Olympic Judo team coach and three-time U.S. World Judo Championship team coach, Sensei Yosshisada Yonezuka in Cranford. Once she started at age seven, she knew judo was her calling; she was happiest on the mat wearing a Gi next to Sensei Yonezuka.

Noran immediately started participating in local and national tournaments with great results as proven by her success as a 4-time New Jersey State champion since 2010. She won bronze at the 2014 USJF in Hawaii. Her dream is to stand on the Olympic podium.

Noran is now training with Senesi Chris Shelly in Fort Lee and Sensei Alfonso Pinto in Randolph. Both senseis believe in Noran and are putting in all the effort to get her ready to become an Olympic champion and world Champion.

In November 2015 she represented USA in Infantile Pan American team in Argentina. She got a gold medal in South America continent Championship and bronze in infantile Pan American championship.

In November 22 she won two gold medals in Dallas Open international tournament and in President Cup tournament.

Noran gets all the support from her teachers and her friends at school. When she came back from Argentina she went from the airport directly to class at New Providence Middle School after a 17 hour flight (two flights). The following day her language art teacher Miss Carbone and Noran's classmates surprised Noran with a small party in the classroom. They gave her a big poster (Go Noran, Go Champion). That has a huge impact on Noran to see that kind of support and love from her teachers and her friends. She is grateful that she has all of them!

(above) Noran's work ethic is apparent when you add up all the trophies and gold medals she has acquired in her short career thus far.

(above) Judo is Noran's life and her dream is to one day stand on the Olympic podium.

HOME FOR GOOD DOG RESCUE CELEBRATES 4,000 ADOPTIONS

Summit-based nonprofit organization Home for Good Dog Rescue celebrated its milestone 4,000th adoption on Nov. 28 as part of a special two-day event hosted at its offices in Berkeley Heights, NJ.

At a mere 13-weeks-old, Stella, a former stray Labrador Retriever mix from Swainsboro, GA and the sole survivor of her litter, found her forever home that morning amid enthusiastic applause from the organization's volunteers, staff, and fosters.

"It's amazing how far we have come in just five short years," Rich Errico, Home for Good's co-founder and treasurer, said. "Our operation started out of somebody's living room in 2010, and we would not have been able to grow so much in such a short time without the support of our local community."

Home for Good's staff surprised the Perrone family of Madison, NJ by announcing that they and Stella marked the latest major benchmark in the organization's five-year history. And following a round of applause, the team popped open a bottle of champagne to truly begin the celebration.

"Every dog we save reminds us why we do what we do," Home for Good Dog Rescue's Public Relations and Social Media Coordinator Matt Holowienka said. "It's wonderful to see Stella go home with such a wonderful family, and everything truly seemed to align to make this moment possible."

After visiting the first part of the adoption event on Nov. 27, the Perrone family fell in love with Stella and hastily filled out an application for adoption. And although they worried she would find another home as they waited for approval, she was still eagerly waiting when they returned Saturday morning.

"I was here for the 1000th adoption," Foster Coordinator Susan Strell said. "That we have placed so many dogs not only in permanent homes but in foster homes is more success than we could have ever imagined."

The 100-percent foster-based Home for Good

(above) Members of the Perrone family react with surprise upon being informed they are adoption number 4,000.

Dog Rescue transports dogs from high-kill shelters throughout South Carolina and Georgia to New Jersey in search of their forever homes. It has been only one year since it celebrated its milestone 3,000th adoption in 2014.

"We're only going to keep growing from here, and it's wonderful that so many people have gotten involved in our mission," Errico remarked.

Home for Good's next endeavor is the construction of the ALMOST HOME Wellness Center in Aiken, S.C. This specialized facility will allow the organization to rescue even more dogs by providing a safe place of recovery and rest for dogs either too young or too sick to make the journey north.

For more information on Home for Good Dog Rescue or to support the capital campaign for the ALMOST HOME Wellness Center, visit www.HomeforGoodDogs.org.

WHARTON INSTITUTE PRESENTS MEET THE STRINGS DECEMBER 6

Members of the New Jersey Youth Symphony perform for Meet the Strings December 6 at 3:00 p.m. at 60 Locust Avenue in Berkeley Heights.

Wharton Institute for the Performing Arts (WIPA) kicks off its 2015-2016 Meet the Orchestra series with an interactive concert for the entire family on Sunday, December 6 at 3:00 p.m. at 60 Locust Avenue in Berkeley Heights. Meet the Strings is free and open to the public.

Meet the Orchestra, a fun, informative and interactive series where children and adults explore the instrument families of the orchestra, features members of the New Jersey Youth Symphony (NJYS) and includes a musical petting zoo where the members of the audience are given the chance to play each instrument. The New Jersey Youth Symphony string quartet, made up of violinist Emily Wang of Scotch Plains, an 11th grader at Union County Magnet High School; violinist Emily Kwon of Warren, a senior at The Pingry School; violist Aidan Garrison of Sparta, an 11th grader at Evergreen Academy; and cellist Iris Peng of Livingston, a senior at Livingston High School, is led by NJYS Conductor and WIPA instructor Michelle Hatcher on this melodic journey. The string quartet will perform two movements of Dvořák's String Quartet No. 12 in F Major, Op. 96 American as well as other selections guaranteed to delight the audience.

Michelle Hatcher, violist and string specialist, received her Bachelor and Masters of Music at Manhattan School of Music. While freelancing and teaching in NYC, she found her true passion, sharing her love of music with children. While receiving her Suzuki certification at the School for Strings in NYC, she started the string program at Rutgers Preparatory School and helped to build the Suzuki Program at Montclair State University. Having established a successful private studio in Montclair, Ms. Hatcher founded Fiddle Fun, an intensive music camp for Suzuki trained musicians to learn how to fiddle in many styles. She is the conductor of the Preparatory String Ensemble and Junior String Ensemble at the New Jersey Youth Symphony.

The Wharton Institute for the Performing Arts' mission is to provide the highest quality performing arts education to a wide range of students in a supportive and inclusive environment, where striving for personal excellence inspires and connects those we teach to the communities we serve.

Wharton is New Jersey's largest independent non-profit community performing arts center serving over 1,400 students through a range of classes and ensembles including the 14 ensembles of the New Jersey Youth Symphony which serve 500 students in grades 3 - 12. Beginning with Early Childhood music classes for infants and toddlers, WIPA offers private lessons, group classes and ensembles for all ages and all abilities. We believe in the positive and unifying influence of music and the performing arts and believe that arts education should be accessible to all people regardless of their ability to pay. We teach all instruments and voice and have a robust musical theatre program.

The Paterson Music Project is Wharton's El Sistema-inspired program held at the Community

Charter School of Paterson and Paterson Public School 1/26. Students receive 6 hours of intensive music instruction each week with the goal of creating social change through the ambitious pursuit of musical excellence.

Wharton institute for the Performing Arts is located in Berkeley Heights, New Providence and Paterson, NJ and reaches students from 13 counties. All of WIPA's extraordinary faculty members and conductors hold degrees in their teaching specialty and have been vetted and trained to enable our students to achieve their personal best.
