BOY SCOUTS AND KEAN UNIVERSITY PARTNER TO HOST FIRST ANNUAL STEM UNIVERSITY EVENT SPONSORED BY ALCOA

In collaboration with Kean University, the Patriots' Path Council Boy Scouts of America hosted its inaugural STEM University for Boy Scouts from across northern and central New Jersey. The Scouts participated in a day of science, technology, engineering and mathematics-related activities on the Kean University Campus in Union, on Dec. 12, 2015. The event was made possible by Alcoa Corporation, who was a major sponsor of the event.

STEM University faculty and students, along with Scouting volunteers from the council STEM committee, provided a variety of workshops, lectures and hands-on activities focusing on physics, mathematics, astronomy, robotics and engineering at Kean's STEM Building (the New Jersey Center for Science, Technology & Mathematics) and Kean's Planetarium.

Scouts who attended worked on requirements for the Shoot! Nova Award. Additionally, participants had rare access to the various Kean University STEM facilities including the Kean Planetarium and "The Cave"—a 3-D virtual environment that allows participants to experience scientific research in a whole new way.

Scouts learned how science, math and physics make projectiles shoot into space, how humans impact nature, and explored the wonders of space. Scouts concluded the day by meeting with the New Jersey Governor's STEM Scholars to discuss STEM careers.

For further information about STEM University and the Boy Scouts, please contact the Patriots' Path Council at 973-765-9322 or visit www.ppbsa.org. To learn more about Kean University, please visit www.kean.edu.

11 CRITICAL HOME INSPECTION TRAPS TO BE AWARE OF WEEKS BEFORE LISTING YOUR HOME FOR SALE

Union NJ - According to industry experts, there are over 33 physical problems that will come under scrutiny during a home inspection when your home is for sale. A new report has been prepared which identifies the eleven most common of these problems, and what you should know about them before you list your home for sale.

Whether you own an old home or a brand new one, there are a number of things that can fall short of requirements during a home inspection. If not identified and dealt with, any of these 11 items could cost you dearly in terms of repair. That's why it's critical that you read this report before you list your home. If you wait until the building inspector flags these issues for you, you will almost certainly experience costly delays in the close of your home sale or, worse, turn prospective buyers away altogether. In most cases, you can make a reasonable pre-inspection yourself if you know what you're looking for, and knowing what you're looking for can help you prevent little problems from growing into costly and unmanageable ones.

To help homesellers deal with this issue before their homes are listed, a free report entitled "11 Things You Need to Know to Pass Your Home Inspection" has been compiled which explains the issues involved.

To hear a brief recorded message about how to order your FREE copy of this report call toll-free 1-888-243-5861 and enter 3003. You can call any time, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Get your free special report NOW to learn how to ensure a home inspection doesn't cost you the sale of your home.

UNION LIBRARY PRESENTS UPTOWN GUMBO

Harlem and the Impact of Jazz and Blues on Literary Art

Union, New Jersey – The Union Public Library will present Uptown Gumbo - Harlem and the Impact of Jazz and Blues on Literary Art by Michael Conklin on Saturday, February 13 at 2:00 P.M. at The Union Public Library, 1980 Morris Avenue, Union, NJ 07083. This program is free and open to the public with no registration required. The program is funded by the Horizons Speakers Bureau of the New Jersey Council for the Humanities, a state partner of the National Endowment for the Humanities.

The “New Negro Renaissance,” or perhaps better known as the “Harlem Renaissance,” was a cultural cauldron in which the African American population, newly settled in New York City’s northern-most neighborhood, established an artistic amalgamation of literary, musical, visual, and intellectual genera. This program reveals the aesthetic connections between the music of Duke Ellington, James P. Johnson, Bessie Smith, Louis Armstrong, and Billie Holiday and the writings of Langston Hughes, Countee Cullen, Zora Neale Hurston, and Claude McKay. The result was an artistic tradition that, through specific musical devices such as idiomatic forms, rhythmic phrasing, and improvisation, clearly resonated with the black, literary aesthetes.

Michael Conklin, Professor at Brookdale Community College, Jazz historian and scholar, will explore the cultural significance of the vibrant explosion of literary, visual and musical arts from the African American community during the “Harlem Renaissance”. For more information about this event, contact The Union Public Library at 908-851-5450, ext. 2. For more information about the Horizons Speakers Bureau please visit <http://njch.org/programs/hsb/>.
