PRINCIPAL MAKES RUTGERS 1ST 'STRING DAY' HAPPEN

Story by: Rob Kinch

Thanks to the support of principal John Farinella, the Rahway High School Strings Orchestra was able to participate in this brand new event coordinated by Rutgers' Dr. Elena Chernova-Davis. Held in November, Rutgers String Day was developed to bring together the most advanced high school chamber orchestras from the tri-county area for a day of playing, fun, and learning at Mason Gross School of the Arts Nicholas Music Center. It was an honor for the RHS orchestra to be invited to join the program along with five other high school orchestras from Montgomery, East Brunswick, Westfield, Old Bridge, and Summit. Recognizing the value of such a learning opportunity for his students, Mr. Farinella saw to it that both the registration fee and transportation were taken care of so that the students could benefit from this unique experience. Teacher and orchestra director, Sergei Panov, offered that it was the consensus of the students that, without Mr. Farinella's help, they could not have participated in this event that inspired them "to do better as musicians."

The String Day began with a faculty concert and was followed by clinics where each of the six schools were required to perform a substantial movement from a major work for String Orchestra. The faculty of Rutgers Mason Gross School of Music then worked with each group to improve their performance and an adjudication of each orchestra followed. To culminate the day's program, all six schools performed together Gustav Holst's "St. Paul's Suite."

It was clear that the day's events provided not only an educational impact on the students, but an inspirational one as well. Violist Jayla Walker saw the program as "an opportunity to see groups out of our district and to see what they do different from us. We get feedback which can help us in the long run." Cellist Najah Nelson confessed she was "nervous" after the first performance, but "got more confident and at ease after that." Section leader Anna Marie Belfon affirmed that, "After 4 years this was my absolute best experience being in an orchestra!" Cellist Ryan Boyle offered a realistic yet truly positive take on his orchestra's performance, "It was clear we were the least experienced, but we learned how to better ourselves and we WANT to play better and do our part."

Upon reflection, Mr. Panov agreed that this special day definitely "encouraged us to move forward and set our goals higher so we could rise to the optimum expression of our talents." Mr. Farinella was equally enthusiastic about the ultimate rewards to the orchestra. "I am very pleased and proud that our orchestra students were able to participate in String Day. The experience of visiting and performing at a Big Ten University is a memorable one that enriches and rewards our musicians for their long hours of practice. I congratulate Orchestra Director, Sergei Panov, and his students for bringing our Rahway talents to the Rutgers campus."

BLUE TRI FOOD DRIVE FEEDS 58 FAMILIES

By: Lauren Palermo

Senior Cedric Price, Blue Tri Club President and four-year member, was astounded by the generosity of both students and staff at the 2016 Thanksgiving Food Drive. For one month, the club solicited donations of non-perishable, traditional Thanksgiving food, money and turkeys to feed Rahway's neediest families. Cedric remarked, "I'm very excited to be doing the food drive again this year. We continue to feed more families each and every time."

On November 18, with advisors, Ms. Rieder and Ms. Palermo, 35 Blue Tri students assembled for the day to collect, sort, and package the donations from the district to be delivered to the families. Vice-President, Andrea Barwick, commented, "Every year that I've done this, the experience has been more enjoyable. It's amazing how community comes together to help each other."

With the money that was collected, Ms. Rieder spent the weekend purchasing turkeys and whatever else was needed to complete the care boxes. With the help of the maintenance and nursing staff, all of the holiday packages were distributed throughout the district.

Ms. Palermo was deeply moved and rededicated to this project when a Blue Tri member confided that her family had been the recipient of one of these food baskets last year when her family was in dire straits. Since the family is doing better now, she wanted to reciprocate. She brought in two completed baskets of food and donated $20.

Ms. Rieder and Ms. Palermo are thankful for the generosity and benevolence of the students, staff and community. They look forward to continuing this endeavor next year.

11 CRITICAL HOME INSPECTION TRAPS TO BE AWARE OF WEEKS BEFORE LISTING YOUR HOME FOR SALE

Rahway NJ - According to industry experts, there are over 33 physical problems that will come under scrutiny during a home inspection when your home is for sale. A new report has been prepared which identifies the eleven most common of these problems, and what you should know about them before you list your home for sale.

Whether you own an old home or a brand new one, there are a number of things that can fall short of requirements during a home inspection. If not identified and dealt with, any of these 11 items could cost you dearly in terms of repair. That's why it's critical that you read this report before you list your home. If you wait until the building inspector flags these issues for you, you will almost certainly experience costly delays in the close of your home sale or, worse, turn prospective buyers away altogether. In most cases, you can make a reasonable pre-inspection yourself if you know what you're looking for, and knowing what you're looking for can help you prevent little problems from growing into costly and unmanageable ones.

To help homesellers deal with this issue before their homes are listed, a free report entitled "11 Things You Need to Know to Pass Your Home Inspection" has been compiled which explains the issues involved.

To order a FREE Special Report, visit www.njhomeinspectiontraps.com or to hear a brief recorded message about how to order your FREE copy of this report call toll-free 1-888-243-5861 and enter 3000. You can call any time, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

A LOOK BACK IN TIME – RAHWAY 50, 75, AND 100 YEARS AGO

By Al Shipley, City Historian and Rahway Library Research Consultant

It's a new year and time to look back at what was going on in the City of Rahway 50, 75, and 100 years ago as reported in the pages of the local paper of the day.

The year began with the announcement that the evangelist Charles F. Weigle, a well-known and gifted orator from Kentucky, was coming to Rahway for a six-week evangelistic campaign to rekindle the spirits of Rahway's Christians. During his visit, several massive revival meetings were held in a tented tabernacle which was constructed in an open lot on the corner of Campbell Street and Elm Avenue. It was estimated that over 1,730 persons were "born again" and made ready to "hit the trail" for Christ.

The Board of Education reported that Franklin School, located on Union Street and built in 1852, was over-crowded and outdated (a new Franklin School would eventually be built on St. Georges Avenue in 1922.) It was also in 1917 that schools were fire-proofed and fire escapes were added.

The Merck plant completed a three-year construction project that tripled the number of buildings and employees on their 200 acre site. Established in 1899, Merck had developed into the largest manufacturing concern in the city producing over 5,000 different products.

The United States entered World War I on April 6 and Rahway responded by requiring families to complete a survey listing the names of each man in the family of military age and all material resources owned such as guns, autos, and anything else that might be of use in the war effort.

On October 26 the Post Office celebrated the 20th anniversary of their home delivery service.

In December, the library announced that as of February 1918, it would become a free public library, making the borrowing of books and magazines free to all residents of the city. (Paid subscriptions were required for membership before this change.)

1942

Throughout 1942, assisting in the war effort and preparing for the possibility of an invasion dominated the attention of cities across the nation. In Rahway, air raid sirens were installed atop city hall, the high school, Grover Cleveland, Franklin, and Roosevelt schools. The alert signal was a series of short blasts over a two minute period and the all clear signal was a two-minute continuous blast of steady pitch.

On Wednesday, April 15, the first blackout drill was held from 10:00-10:15 p.m. in nine counties in north Jersey. All vehicular traffic was stopped and all lights extinguished. The response in Rahway was almost perfect.

Paper, rags, cardboard, metals, rubber, and tin cans were collected in scrap drives. Ration cards were issued for sugar, gasoline, and fuel oil. Auto purchases were controlled and driving mileage recorded. War stamps and bonds were purchased by students in each of the schools and bonds were sold in churches, factories, theaters, and the hospital.

In August, Regina was awarded the prestigious Army-Navy E Award for converting their production line to produce materials for the war. National Pneumatic received the E Award in September and Merck would be honored with the award in January, 1943.

Rules were set for Christmas lighting. Only modest lighting could be displayed on homes with no extravagant use of lights that could contribute to the overall sky glow.

News came in November that Marine Pvt. Terrance J. Brady died from wounds while fighting in the battles of the South Pacific, thus becoming the first Rahway boy to be killed in action in World War II.

Seventeen candidates ran for seats on the Board of Education which remains the largest slate to run since the board became an elective body in the 1950s. The new board would enact several issues that would become controversial including a plan to transfer 5th and 6th graders from Grover Cleveland and Columbian elementary schools to Madison and Roosevelt as a step in reducing racial imbalance in the grammar schools. A second "hot button" item was the board's decision to introduce courses in Family Life and Sex Education to the high school curriculum.

On Saturday, May 13, American Legion Post 5 chartered buses to take residents to New York City to participate in a parade along 5th Avenue to support the boys fighting in Viet Nam.

Herbert T. Kinch was appointed Chief of Police to become the first African-American to command a large city police force in North Jersey. Kinch joined the force in 1942 and rose through the ranks. He had been named Deputy Police Chief in 1965.

The old library on Seminary Avenue and Irving Street closed on June 26. The grand opening of the new St. Georges Avenue library was celebrated on July 16.

(above) The St. Georges Avenue Library, opened in 1967, served the public for only 22 years. The building was destroyed in the Fall of 1999 by the flood waters of Hurricane Floyd.

(above) Food staples and commodities vital to the war effort had to be rationed. All residents were issued ration books by the Office of Price Administration.

MOURNING DOVES (PART ONE)

WINTER BACKYARD BIRD FEEDING

Mourning doves are the most successful wild dove in North America, with a range from Alaska, Canada, Maine and as far south as Panama.

Although most Mourning doves migrate south during the winter months, many stay in our area where they depend on back yard bird feeders for survival.

Mourning doves feed on a vast assortment of seeds including weed seeds which makes it a valuable ally of farmers and gardeners. If you keep your bird feeders stocked Mourning doves will stay close, eating off the ground (gleaning) under feeders which helps keep that area clean.

Snow and ice make it difficult for these birds to scratch up seed, but there are a few things that you can do to help them. During the snowfall sprinkle seed on top to keep food in reach. If possible flatten an area and sprinkle the seed on that area. After a big storm I put cardboard on top of the snow and sprinkle the seed on top of that. I feed Mourning doves millet which is their favorite seed and black-oil sunflower seed because it is high in protein.

Mourning doves also utilize a heated birdbath for drinking water if you can provide it.

Also known as 'Turtle Doves', Mourning doves are medium size birds around 5 to 6 ounces, with brown pointed wings and tail, white and black markings and a crescent on its neck. Males have blue and pink highlights on the head and around their eyes. The pointed falcon like wings give them the ability to reach speeds of 40 to 55 miles per hour. Mourning doves are related to the now extinct 'Passenger doves' used in wartime to deliver messages.

(above) President of The Rahway Garden Club, James Keane has been researching and answering garden questions since 1995. Visit 'Keane Gardener' blog at: keanegardener.blogspot.com

During takeoff their flapping wings make a loud whirling sound and their strong feet enable them to push off the ground quickly. The call from the male is a hollow mournful coah, cooo, cooo.

Habitat is open farmlands, towns, roadsides, open grasslands and scrubs. I'll provide more information on Mourning doves mating and raising their young in the spring.

Enjoy your garden all year long,

James

GIRL SCOUTS PLANT DAFFODIL BULBS AT MERCHANTS AND DROVERS

For the second year in a row, members of the Rahway Garden Club have helped local Girl Scout Troop #40745 plant spring flowering daffodil bulbs on the grounds of the Merchants and Drovers Tavern Museum. On a bright and sunny November Saturday; the Scouts dug the holes needed, added some bone meal fertilizer and then placed a single bulb into each hole and then covered the bulb with soil. Over 100 bulbs in total were planted.

The Scouts thanked the Rahway Garden Club for a wonderful day of planting bulbs. "Our scouts really enjoyed it and are so enthusiastic about gardening. Thank you for your guidance in teaching the girls how to plant. My hope is that they develop a lifelong love of gardening and taking care of our earth" noted scout team leader Kristina Junkroft.

The Rahway Garden Club supervised the young gardeners as parents looked on. Afterwards, warm apple cider and ginger snaps were served in the historic kitchen of the Merchants and Drovers Tavern Museum.

FAMILY MATH NIGHT

Destiny After School Haven (DASH), held a Family Math Night in November that included parents, teachers, and students. Dr. Kevin Robinson, Supervisor of STEM, conducted a workshop that included an overview of the math program in Rahway, as well as an activity that included solving math problems with the audience. Parents and students tackled various word problems that would help in preparation for the upcoming New Jersey state assessment (PARCC). Students displayed their expertise in mathematics by teaching the group various methods to solve these problems. It was an exciting evening that fostered a connection between the school and community.

BLUE AND GOLD CLUB

The Blue and Gold Club members at Franklin Elementary School in Rahway made birthday cards for the people who receive 'Meals on Wheels'. Meals on Wheels delivers hundreds of meals daily and the cards will be delivered with their food on their special day. The kids were delighted to know that their cards will put a smile on someone's face.

TRINITAS BECOMES FIRST IN UNION COUNTY TO EARN JCAHO GOLD SEAL APPROVAL FOR TOTAL HIP AND KNEE REPLACEMENT

Trinitas Regional Medical Center announced it has earned The Joint Commission's Gold Seal of Approval® for Disease Specific Certification for Total Hip and Total Knee Replacement. This certification is for Joint Commission-accredited hospitals, critical access hospitals and ambulatory surgery centers seeking to elevate the quality, consistency and safety of their services and patient care. Trinitas is the only health organization in Union County to receive this certification.

Trinitas underwent a rigorous, onsite survey in early November. Joint Commission experts evaluated compliance with disease-specific care standards for total hip and total knee replacement, including pre and post-operative patient education, patient safety, prevention of infection, restoration of patient function and patient monitoring after discharge from the hospital.

"This designation is the result of the hard work of a tremendous team of professionals," stated James Dunleavy, PT, DPT, MS, Doctor of Physical Therapy and Director of Rehabilitation Services. He added, "The Gold Seal of Approval covers our entire program, from assessment, surgery and perhaps most importantly, rehabilitation. We're very proud to be able to bring many individuals together who are tops in their field, and who share a common goal of providing excellent care for our patients."

"Achieving Total Hip and Total Knee

Replacement Certification recognizes Trinitas Regional Medical Center's commitment to provide care in a safe and efficient manner for patients," said Patrick Phelan, interim executive director, Hospital Business Development, The Joint Commission. "The certification will help Trinitas better provide coordinated and comprehensive care to patients undergoing a total hip or total knee replacement."

"Trinitas is pleased to receive disease specific certification from The Joint Commission, the premier health care quality improvement and accrediting body in the nation," added Gary S. Horan, FACHE, President/CEO of Trinitas. "We look forward to improving patient safety and quality of care for the increasing number of patients undergoing total hip or total knee replacement surgery."

Established in 2016 and awarded for a two-year period, the disease specific certification was developed in response to the growing number of patients undergoing a total hip or total knee replacement surgery, as well as the increased focus on clinical evidence-based patient care as it relates to pain management, quality of life issues, functional limitation in mobility and the return to normal daily activities.

For more information on the Total Joint Replacement Program at Trinitas, call (908) 994-5406 or visit www.TrinitasRMC.org and click on the Total Joint icon.
