A NATIONAL HOLIDAY FOR RESPECT AND GRATITUDE TO THOSE WHO HAVE SERVED IN OUR ARMED FORCES.

Prepared by Ron Stefanowicz, Linden Veterans Council, Commander

Veterans Day is set aside to remember every man and woman who has taken up arms to defend our country. We honor every Soldier, Sailor, Airman, Marine and Coastguardsman who gave some of the best years of their lives to the service of the United States and stood ready to give life, itself, on our behalf. Twenty-five million military veterans walk among us, and on this day, our nation thanks them all.

These are the hidden heroes of a peaceful nation: our colleagues and friends, neighbors and family members who answered the call and returned to live in the land they defended.

Our veterans are drawn from several generations and many backgrounds. They're Americans who remember the swift conflict of the Persian Gulf War; and a long Cold War vigil; the heat of Vietnam and the bitter cold of Korea. Some are veterans in their 80's, who served under MacArthur and Eisenhower and saved the liberty of the world.

Some of our veterans are young men and women with recent memories of battle in mountains and in deserts. In Afghanistan, these brave Americans helped sweep away a vicious tyranny allied with terror and prepared the way for a free people to elect its own leaders. In Iraq, our men and women fought a ruthless enemy of America, setting the people free from a tyrant.

All who have served in this cause are liberators in the best tradition of America. Their actions have made our nation safer in a world full of new dangers. Their actions have also upheld the ideals of America's founding, which defines us still. Our nation values freedom -- not just for ourselves, but for all. And because Americans are willing to serve and sacrifice for this cause, our nation remains the greatest force for good among all the nations on the Earth.

Our men and women in the military have superb training and the best equipment and able commanders. They have another great advantage -- they have the example of American veterans who came before. From the very day George Washington took command, the uniform of the United States has always stood for courage and decency and shining hope in a world of darkness. And all who have worn that uniform have won the thanks of the American people.

On this day, we also recall the men and women who did not live to be called "veterans," many of whom rest in many places in the world. Our veterans remember the faces and voices of fallen comrades. The families of the lost carry a burden of grief that time will lighten, but never lift. Our whole nation honors every patriot who placed duty and country before their own lives. They gave us every day that we live in freedom. The security of America depends on our active leadership in the world to oppose emerging threats and to spread freedom that leads to the peace we all want. And our leadership ultimately depends on the commitment and character of the Armed Forces.

America has needed these qualities in every generation, and every generation has stepped forward to provide them. What veterans have given our country is beyond our power to fully repay, yet, today we recognize our debt to their honor. And on Veterans Day, this national holiday, our hearts are filled with respect and gratitude for the veterans of the United States of America.

On this Veterans Day we ask God to bless our veterans and their families, and may God continue to bless our great nation.

ST. JOHN THE APOSTLE FOOD PANTRY IS GEARING UP FOR THE HOLIDAY'S

St. John the Apostle Food Pantry located on Valley Road in Linden/Clark, has reached a milestone recently. They have gone over the 100,000 pound mark of documented food products distributed to their clients during the last few years. Some of this was given to them by state and federal programs, much of it was provided by food collections, and some was purchased with the generous donations many of the parishioners, school children, neighboring businesses, and friends have given to them.

Their client list has more than tripled itself over these last few years, and they still anticipate an ever-growing need for their ministry. Expenses have increased tremendously because volunteers are now forced to transport, almost weekly, their food allotments from the Community Food Bank in Hillside to the pantry, in a rental truck.

"St. John the Apostle Food Pantry is so grateful for all the donations we recently received in outfitting our youngest clients with new book bags and school supplies. We accommodated over 100 students," stated Mary Ann Fiorillo, director of the pantry.

Mrs. Fiorillo explained that as the major holidays approach, they will once again have a great need for turkeys, trimmings, children's gifts, and infant supplies. She stated "While the Community Food Bank of Hillside has been a most generous source for us, we would still fall short of our task to defeat hunger and poverty for our surrounding parishioners and neighbors. These ARE tough times, and we need YOUR support. Please help our dedicated volunteer staff provide for those that are less fortunate. We anticipate feeding over 700 mouths each month from now through the end of the year."

If you'd like to help, the pantry accepts checks and money orders payable to St. John the Apostle Food Pantry, 1805 Penbrook Terrace, Linden, NJ 07036. Turkeys or trimmings may be brought to the Pantry on Friday, Nov. 11th or 18th, or Monday, Nov. 21st between 3 pm and 6 pm. The Pantry is housed in the basement of the McGuinness Center (the former convent) located on Valley Road in Clark/Linden, NJ.

For more information please call the Pantry at 732-388-1216.

TIGER PRIDE

Linden High School surely has tiger pride. The students and faculty were actively participating in “Spirit Week” and the first pep rally led by new principal, Mr. Robertozzi. All students were invited to a fall pep rally showcasing fall sports, dance company, homecoming court, and Linden’s talented band. The students filed into the stands ready to be entertained and revitalized with school spirit by their peer role models.

The senior class president and his committee did a wonderful job organizing the event with the guidance of the senior class advisor. The sports teams and their coaches were all introduced and coaches were actively seeking new fans to come out at watch the upcoming sporting events. The teams introduced were the girl’s tennis team, girl’s volleyball, boy’s and girl’s cross country, boy’s and girl’s soccer, football and cheerleading, and the Dance.

SCHOOLS TAKE A STAND AGAINST VIOLENCE AND BULLYING

October is an important month in the Linden Public Schools. During this month, individual schools throughout the district acknowledge the “Week of Respect,” “School Violence Awareness Week” and “Red Ribbon Week.”

Linden Highland Avenue School Ten celebrated the Week of Respect by participating in an active discussion with the school social worker about respect, why it’s important, people and objects that we show respect to and even brainstormed ways to continue to show respect towards others throughout the school year. At the end of the discussion, students in grades 1-5 were asked to design a “red brick” that described what respect is or would look like. This brick created “Respect Road” which is hung in the main hallway of the building for all to see and take pride in. This road is also behind the students pictured.

During School Violence Awareness Week, students took part in various activities regarding conflict resolution, managing anger and increasing their awareness about bullying. Students were also asked to bring in a canned food item which was donated to a local food pantry. This canned food drive worked to reiterate the message that together, We CAN take a stand against School Violence and Bullying.

All students were equally excitable in this collaborative approach signifying not only ways to put a stop to school violence and bullying, but helping others within their community.

LINDEN HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS PLEDGE RESPECT

Linden High School students have made a pledge of respect. The students and faculty have been actively participating in the LHS's, along with other schools in the state, first annual "Week of Respect." The celebration of this week is an initiative that is part of the new Harassment, Intimidation, and Bullying (HIB) legislation.

To celebrate, Principal, Mr. Robertozzi has asked teachers to incorporate anti-bullying, respect and tolerance building, and diversity and pride centered lessons into their plans. Students have been reading current news articles, creating artwork, writing poetry, and completing various other assignments to show their understanding and commitment to stop school bullying.

Mr. Devero and Mr. Gaskins, two Linden High School teachers, created a large banner with the words "Stop the Violence [Stop] Bullying." The students took it upon themselves to sign this poster with the intentions of making a pledge of respect.

The students and teachers are working together to promote a school-wide safety net where students feel safe to learn and grow as individuals.

IT TAKES A VILLAGE TO EDUCATE A CHILD

Sts. Mary & Elizabeth Academy conducted a Safety Day Program in conjunction with the Linden Police and Fire Departments as well as the Villani Bus Company in October. The students had an opportunity to ask questions of the Police Officers and Firemen. All of the students were able to sit in an ambulance and have Rose, a member of the LEMS squad explain the various equipment they have available to use. Grace of the Villani Bus Company conducted a bus evacuation drill for all of the students. The younger students were able to squirt a water hose. The 6th, 7th, and 8th grade students were made aware of the career opportunities that will be available to them in their future. The students were asked if they learned safety information that they could share with their families and they overwhelmingly replied that it was more fun learning real life things than reading a text book.

LINDEN EMERGENCY MEDICAL SERVICES

Most people have heard about diabetes before and may even know someone who is diabetic. An estimated 23.6 million people in the United States, approximately 7.8% of the population, are diabetics. Of those 17.9 million have been diagnosed but 5.7 million have not yet been diagnosed. Each year about 1.6 million people age 20 or older are diagnosed with diabetes. Diabetes is a life threatening condition in which the body has difficulty converting food into energy for the body. When food is taken into the body it is broken down into glucose which is carried throughout the body by the blood. Without insulin glucose cannot be broken down into energy.

Type 1 diabetes (also known as juvenile diabetes) is categorized as the complete lack of insulin production. This occurs because the immune system destroys the insulin producing cells. Type 2 diabetes occurs when the insulin produced is ineffective and blood sugar levels (or glucose levels in the blood) increase. Over time the body will stop producing any insulin at all. Type 2 diabetes is typically diagnosed in patients that are 20 years of age or older.

There are several risk factors that are known for type 2 diabetes. Some of these risk factors include family history, history of gestational diabetes, hypertension (high blood pressure), high cholesterol specifically low HDL or "good" cholesterol and high triglycerides, limited exercise (fewer than three times a week), a history of cardiovascular disease, or being overweight. Obviously as with anything else risk factors are not an absolute, however there are actions one can take to help decrease the risk of becoming diabetic. There is nothing that we can do to change our genetic make-up, so therefore if there are diabetics in your immediate family, there is an emphasized significance to limit the other risk factors on the list. Maintaining a low fat, high protein diet; limiting salt intake will allow you to maintain cholesterol levels, lose weight, help control blood pressure and maintain steady blood sugar levels. Exercise regularly, mild exercise three to four times a week is sufficient. If your blood pressure is elevated, you should monitor it and treat as advised by your physician. If you are at risk, you are urged to contact a physician.

LINDEN RESIDENT COLLECTS TOYS FOR CAMP LEATHERNECK

Mrs. Patricia Backes, a long-time Linden resident, contacted Mayor Gerbounka asking him for his help. Her grandson-in-law, serving in Afghanistan, asked her for slightly used stuff animals so that the Marines at Camp Leatherneck could hand out these toys to the children at Helmond Province in Afghanistan.

When Mayor Gerbounka solicited Linden residents to respond, their generosity was overwhelming.

Hundreds of toys and stuffed animals were boxed for shipment to Afghanistan with the assistance of Marine reservist 1st Sgt. Bobby Clark. The toys were loaded on an airplane that took off from McGuire Air Force Base bound for Afghanistan.

"I'm proud to be the Mayor of Linden. Our residents always rise to the occasion whether it's helping our citizens or kids halfway around the world".

LINDEN POLICE PUT THE BRAKES ON FATALITIES

In an effort to make New Jersey's streets safer, the Linden Police Department increased roving patrols on October 10, 2011, in cooperation with "Put the Brakes on Fatalities Day." Developed in 2001, "Put the Brakes on Fatalities Day" was adopted to help increase the public's awareness of common bad driving behaviors, and focusing on stopping them for one day a year. Last year in New Jersey, 556 people lost their lives in motor vehicle-related crashes, four of which occurred on Linden streets.

"We increased our roving patrols on Routes 1&9 that day, and our department wrote 60 summonses," said Linden Traffic Sergeant Michael Babulski. "We targeted everything from talking and texting on the cell phone to failing to wear their seatbelts." Babulski continued by stating that "Our department wants to cut down on fatalities and accidents not only on October 10th, but all year round. Telling someone that a family member was injured, or worse killed, due to a motor vehicle collision is an awful feeling. We were able to go all day without giving someone that terrible news, but unfortunately other department's were not so lucky."

In addition to increasing patrols, the Linden Police also placed variable message boards along Route 1&9, a state mandated Safe Corridor. "We hoped that the use of these message boards helped to educate the public, and made them aware of this department's effort to help increase safety," stated Babulski. "Being issued and having to pay for a seatbelt ticket may seem ridiculous, but it is better than having to deal with the loss of a loved one or your own life." Additional information regarding "Put the Brakes on Fatalities Day" is available at www.brakesonfatalities.org.

FIRE PREVENTION AND LIFE SAFETY

The Linden Fire Department and Fire Prevention Bureau recently held their annual Fire Prevention and Life Safety Night at the Raymond Bauer Promenade in Linden. To enhance the event and make it more memorable, prizes were given at the end of the night through a free raffle for the children in attendance.

AND THE 25TH BIRTHDAY OF THE LHS NJROTC

The Linden High school Navy Junior ROTC Unit celebrated the 236th birthday of the U.S. Navy and the 25th birthday of the LHS NJROTC unit on October 12th. As tradition requires, the oldest Navy veteran present and the youngest cadet cut the birthday cake. The Linden High School NJROTC unit was established in 1986 and is now the largest NJROTC unit in New Jersey (and still growing).

Cadets were joined by family members, veterans and educators in their celebration.
