CALLING ALL MUSIC LOVERS

The Centennial Village Group is hosting their annual Music Fest on Saturday Sept 20th from 4-9 p.m. at the Lincoln School in Cranford. Bring your lawn chairs and the whole family. Admission is FREE. There will be food available for purchase, a tricky tray auction and 50/50 raffle.

Performances will include Expressway, Bored of Ed, Joyous Noise as well as performances from local Cranford students, and Split Tree.

Cranford's Centennial Village Group is a committee of local volunteers whose focus is to develop and beautify the Centennial Ave. corridor from North Ave. to the Garden State Parkway. All funds raised are used to beautify the local area. The most recent project included new landscaping and signage at the corner of Lincoln and Centennial Avenues. This group has also supported local endeavors and fundraising for the Cranford First Aid Squad.

Centennial Village Group have collaborated with other local organizations, such as the Chamber of Commerce and Downtown Management Corp., to form part of the Cranford Community Connection (CCC). CCC recently brought the Farmers Market to Cranford every Thursday, and is on-going until October.

Centennial Village Group recently partnered with the Cranford Police Traffic Division to improve crosswalks on Centennial Ave. in order to protect and keep Cranford residents and students safe. This project is expected to be completed by the time school is back in session.

All the projects could not happen without the support of our residents and local Cranford businesses. We hope to see you all at the next Music Fest on September 20, 2014. This event is a great way to come together as a community and support a local cause that benefits all of Cranford.

CRANFORD POLICE DEPARTMENT TO PRESENT SOCIAL MEDIA AND INTERNET SAFETY PROGRAM

On September 18, 2014, the Cranford Police Department will be presenting a social media and Internet safety program for parents. The 90 minute program will begin at 7:00pm at the Cranford Community Center, located at 220 Walnut Avenue.

The presentation, dubbed “Be the Seatbelt” in reference to parents providing safety measures as children navigate the information superhighway, will be coordinated by Detective Sergeant Gerard Quinn. Sergeant Quinn is a 20 year veteran Cranford police officer with over 14 years of experience conducting and supervising criminal investigations involving technology, social media, and the Internet. He was a founding member of the Union County High Tech Task Force and is a Cybercrime Investigations instructor at the John H. Stamler Police Academy. Sgt. Quinn has conducted numerous technology crime awareness programs both in Cranford and neighboring communities.

“Be the Seatbelt” will address the most common social media applications available to children and adolescents, such as Instagram, Vine, SnapChat, Ask.fm, and others. It will also address the positive uses for technology and discuss the potential pitfalls faced by children without a concept of the public and permanent nature of the Internet. After comparing the current technological expansion to the past development of cable television, video games and video cassette recorders, the presentation will conclude with tools parents can use to expand their knowledge and understanding of online socialization and connected devices.

“Technology is always changing and progressing,” stated Sgt. Quinn. “As smartphones, tablets and other connected devices channel the online world for school work, homework and social interaction, parents need to develop a basic understanding of the tools and media available to their children.” He stressed that since technology cannot be totally avoided or ignored, parents need enough information to set limits and provide guidance and good habits to younger users.

Cranford Police Chief James Wozniak believes the program will help make Cranford a safer place. “No one is better positioned than parents when it comes to positively influencing our community’s children,” he said, “and any time we get a chance to expand their toolbox and help them make our community safer, we will always be on board with that.”

The material presented in the “Be the Seatbelt” program is aimed at adults only. Children will not be allowed at the presentation.

DRAMATIC CLUB ANNOUNCES AUDITIONS

Cranford Dramatic Club Theatre, New Jersey's oldest community Theatre, announces auditions for its intergenerational production of Aladdin, The Prince Street Players Version. Magical, mystical and major fun, The Prince Street Player's version of Aladdin uses flavors from the Far East to tell the story of an urchin, his lamp, his genie, and his love.

Using the art of Ancient Chinese Staging, an all-knowing and all-seeing the Stage Manager and his two Assistants tell the story of Aladdin - an "idle rag-a-muffin," kite flying enthusiast. After happening upon and falling hopelessly in love with the emperor's daughter, Princess Mei Ling, Aladdin is determined to become the richest man in China and marry her, but fate is a fickle mistress and Aladdin's is about to take a few treacherous and hilarious turns before he can have his Happily Ever After. Aladdin is as delightful as it is unique. So original in its concept, it presents a hugely influential style of theatre that will enthrall and entrance audiences of the young and young at heart.

The auditions will be held at CDC Theatre, 78 Winans Ave, Cranford, on Saturday, September 13 at 1:30 pm and Monday, September 15 at 7pm. Auditions for the Children/Teen ensemble will be held on Saturday, September 13 at noon. Please arrive within the first hour of auditions.

All children/teens auditioning for ensemble only should sign in within the first 15 minutes. You will be taught a short piece of music and a short dance combination. An accompanist will be provided. Please prepare 16-32 bars of an up-tempo musical theater song, and bring sheet music in the appropriate key.

If needed, Callbacks will be on Saturday, September 20.

Performances will be Friday, December 5, 2014 at 7:30 pm, Saturday, December 6, 2014 at 1:30 pm, 4:30 pm, and 7:30 pm Sunday, December 7, 2014 at 1:30 and 4:30 pm.

Casting details and additional information can be found by visiting www.cdctheatre.org.

WALK/RUN FOR SCHMITTS' QUEST FOR THE CURE

Cranford High School graduates, Gloriarose Schmitt Konopinski '04 and Andrew Schmitt '97, founded Schmitts' Quest for a Cure, a 501(c)(3). They'll host a 4-mile walk/run fundraiser to fight diabetes, on Saturday, October 4, in Nomahegan Park, Cranford. Participants of all ages are welcome and may register at www.schmittsquest.com for $30. The event schedule is:

- 9:00 a.m. - Day-of registration
- 9:30 a.m. - Sign-in for preregistered participants
- 10:00 a.m. - Runners' start
- 10:15 a.m. - Walkers' start

Any individual, group, or business that would like to co-sponsor the event may do so with a minimum donation of $200. Co-sponsors will have their names (and logos and contact information) printed in the SQC Walk/Run Ad Journal, which will be distributed to all participants at the event. Co-sponsors may also submit marketing material to be placed in participants' bags. Logos and other info for the journal may be scanned and emailed to Andrew Schmitt at bullschmitt78@yahoo.com. Other donations will be gratefully accepted and may be made through PayPal at the website: www.schmittsquest.com. Any questions may be directed to Andrew at 908-400-5563 or his email address shown above.

Gloriarose's diagnosis of Type 1 diabetes in 2001 motivated her to pursue a nursing career.

She's currently employed at Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center in New York. When Gloriarose asked family and friends to join her first Tour de Cure team, "GR Groupies," Andrew enthusiastically helped recruit riders and donors. Ironically, in March 2011, Andrew was also diagnosed with Type 1 diabetes

The pair has collaborated on previous fundraisers, raising a total of over $35,000, having fielded teams for the ADA's Tour de Cure every year from 2003 to 2013 and organizing an annual volleyball tournament at Roselle Catholic High School, starting in January 2009. They also ran two golf outings in Mechanicsburg, PA, and another at Galloping Hill Golf Course in Kenilworth, and a car wash this past June at Union Collision, on Rahway Avenue in Union.

CALL FOR A CURE CONCERT

The third annual Call For A Cure concert took place on June 10th at Cranford High School. Organized completely by students, the event raised more than $1,400 for Friends of Colin, a non-profit organization formed in honor of Colin Maher. The organization was founded by friends and neighbors of Colin after he lost his battle with the cancer Ewings Sarcoma as a Sophomore at C.H.S. in 2010. The organization raises funds for research into treatments and cures for Ewings Sarcoma, as well as to raise awareness, since early detection significantly improves the patient's outcome.

The Call For a Cure concert was started by Cara Costa, a friend of Colin's twin sister Shannon. This year, Lauren Costa directed, aided by her three assistant producers, Jen Fleissner, Taylor Smedburg, and Kelsey Kilpatrick.

Many Cranford students and alumni banded together for the cause, donating their time and talents to participate in honor of Colin. Performances included dances, piano pieces, guitar solos, and sets from the Cranford High School Women's Ensemble and the Noteworthy Gentlemen.

Colin is described by loved ones as a warm, friendly, compassionate, and caring person. He loved animals and had a good sense of humor. He is survived by many friends and neighbors who miss him dearly. In honor of Colin, they will continue to work together to raise money for research for Ewings and "will not stop until there is a cure!"

Special thanks would like to be given to Evan Portta and Ezra Lee who orchestrated lights and sound, the bakers who provided the food, and Mrs. Maher who headed the committee for the concert. They would also like to thank the Board of Education, Dr. Carrick, Mrs. Carroll, Mrs. Berry, Mr. Raffaniello and the wonderful custodial staff for making the Call For A Cure concert a success!

CRANFORD POLICE DEPARTMENT YOUTH POLICE ACADEMY GRADUATION

The eighth class of the Cranford Police Department Youth Police Academy graduated this summer after completing a one-week course designed to expose them to the functions of the police department.

The academy program, designed to bridge the gap between the members of the police department and the youth of Cranford, included 26 cadets from Cranford between the ages of 11 and 14.

“A key role of the Cranford Police Department is the building of relationships with the community. The Youth Academy is an excellent way for us to reach out to the teen population and develop a sense of trust and understanding in both directions,” said Cranford Police Chief James Wozniak.

Each academy day started with one hour of physical fitness and military drill practice led by Patrolman Joseph Stulpin, followed by classroom lectures and demonstrations. Detective Russell Luedecker and Patrolman Steven D’Ambola coordinated training sessions designed to familiarize the cadets with the roles of Cranford police officers, as well as the functions of various county and state law enforcement agencies. During the week, cadets received classroom instruction and participated in practical exercises on police department structure, patrol operations, motor vehicle stops, investigative techniques, DWI, first aid/CPR, firearms safety, gang awareness, and traffic investigations.

Demonstrations were presented by the Cranford Police Department’s Water Rescue Unit, Firearms Unit, Investigative Division, and Community Support Services Division. Additional presentations were made by the Cranford Fire Department Emergency Medical Services, New Jersey State Police TEAMS, New Jersey Transit Police Department, New Jersey Office of Homeland Security & Preparedness, Union County Sheriff’s K-9 Unit, Union County Bomb Squad, Union County SWAT, Union County Office of Emergency Management HAZMAT, Union County Prosecutor’s Office, and U.S. Immigration & Customs Enforcement.

More than 50 family and friends of the cadets attended the graduation ceremony held at the Cranford Community Center. Chief James Wozniak and academy instructor Patrolman Steven D’Ambola led the graduation ceremonies.

During the ceremony, family and friends were given an overview of the Youth Academy Program. The highlight of the graduation was a video and slide show depicting the weeklong training experience. All graduating cadets received certificates for their participation in the program.

OSTEOARTHRITIS
CENTERS OF NEW JERSEY

CRANFORD POLICE EXPLORERS ARE NOW ACCEPTING NEW MEMBERS

On July 28, 2014 the New Jersey State Police hosted commencement exercises for the graduates of the 96th New Jersey State Police Trooper Youth Week police training program. Included in the class of junior and senior high school students from across New Jersey was Cranford Police Explorer Brendan McSharry.

McSharry is a senior at Cranford High School where he is a member of the Track and Cross Country Teams and the PRIDE Leadership Program. Brendan has been a member of the Cranford Police Explorer Post #74 for over four years and assists the instructors at the Cranford Police Department Youth Police Academy each summer.

During the 96th Trooper Youth Week, Trooper Youths took part in physical training, learned and practiced military drill, and gained knowledge about the New Jersey State Police and its many specialized units. The weekend, although grueling at times, was very enjoyable and established in the Trooper Youths a sense of discipline and decorum. The weekend was conducted through a rigid schedule where the Trooper Youths were expected to be punctual and organized at all times and accountable for their actions. Individuals had to be up at 5:30am to be ready for roll call at 6:00am and begin the day. Time was set aside for military drill and physical training throughout the week where individuals learned basic formation and facing movements.

Specialized units within the State Police put on demonstrations in the hopes of expanding the Trooper Youths' knowledge and understanding of the agency as a whole. These units included Crime Scene, Aviation, and K-9 as well as the Bomb/Arson unit. Members of the State Police exposed the Trooper Youths to certain training tactics including that of firearms and driving. DWI and its dangers was a topic at certain points during the weekend. Trooper Youths were given the opportunity to utilize "drunk goggles" and see firsthand how dangerous drinking and driving can be. The Trooper Youth Week instilled in the Trooper Youths the meaning of the agency's core values: honor, duty, and fidelity and created disciplined and well-rounded individuals fit to embark on life's endeavors.

The Cranford Police Explorers are now accepting new members. Anyone interested between the ages of 14 and 21 may call police headquarters at 908-272-2222 for more information. The next meeting is 7:00pm Monday, September 15th at Police Headquarters, 8 Springfield Avenue, Cranford.

7 THINGS YOU MUST KNOW BEFORE PUTTING YOUR HOME UP FOR SALE

Cranford NJ - A new report has just been released which reveals 7 costly mistakes that most homeowners make when selling their home, and a 9 Step System that can help you sell your home fast and for the most amount of money.

This industry report shows clearly how the traditional ways of selling homes have become increasingly less and less effective in today's market.

The fact of the matter is that fully three quarters of homesellers don't get what they want for their homes and become disillusioned and - worse - financially disadvantaged when they put their homes on the market.

As this report uncovers, most homesellers make 7 deadly mistakes that cost them literally thousands of dollars. The good news is that each and every one of these mistakes is entirely preventable. In answer to this issue, industry insiders have prepared a free special report entitled "The 9 Step System to Get Your Home Sold Fast and For Top Dollar".

To order a FREE Special Report, visit www.njhomesellermistakes.com or to hear a brief recorded message about how to order your FREE copy of this report call toll-free 1-888-243-5861 and enter 1000. You can call any time, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

It was a beautiful day for golf as close to one hundred golfers teed it up at the 24th Annual Cranford Rotary Golf Tournament on July 28th at Echo Lake Country Club in Westfield. The event raised $6,000 for the Cranford Police Athletic League and another $6,000 for the Cranford First Aid Squad. Additional funds raised at the outing will support Rotary scholarships and other giving by the Cranford Rotary Charitable Fund, Inc.

Shop Rite of Garwood, Shop Rite of Clark, and Two River Community were major corporate sponsors. The Garlic Rose Bistro, sponsored the $100,000 Shootout. Marc Brown and Wolkstein, Von Ellen and Brown sponsored the putting contest, and more than 100 other organizations and individuals sponsored holes and raffle prizes.

Golf prizes were presented at the banquet that evening, including for low gross, low net, closest to the pin and longest drives. There was also a putting contest and five golfers shot for a hole-in-one to win $100,000.

Accepting the check for Cranford P.A.L. was Police Chief James Wozniak, Honorary Chairman of Cranford P.A.L. The Cranford Police Athletic League, or P.A.L., was founded in 1981, and provides athletic programs for over eight hundred children in Cranford. The programs are supervised and coached by Cranford Police Officers and volunteers from our community. The P.A.L. programs help create a positive, trusting relationship between youth and the Police Officers of Cranford.

Art Nathan, Treasurer of the Cranford First Aid Squad, represented the many volunteers from Cranford and the surrounding area who have been providing free 911 response since 1953. In addition to the care and transportation services, the First Aid Squad also offers various training programs such as free community First Aid and CPR classes, and classes ranging from heart and stroke awareness to those on more advanced emergency care.

NEIGHBORS CELEBRATE MEMORIAL DAY

The Township of Cranford's annual Memorial Day Parade ends with a service at Memorial Park. It is well attended by the community. After that formal ceremony Cranford residents Don and Joanne Sweeney invite family, friends, and neighbors to their home for a barbeque. The Sweeneys were always spectators at the Memorial Day Parade. Joanne, who was raised in Cranford, recalls her family made it a mandatory event for all their family for years.

"If there is ever a summer opportunity for our family to go away for the week-end, the same answer would always come from Joanne. We can't, we go to the Memorial Day Parade." stated Don.

Traditionally after the parade the Sweeneys would always have a couple neighbors over in the afternoon for a small barbeque. As time went by and their sons became involved with Cub Scout Pack 103, the gang after the parade started to grow. Then, after the attack on the World Trade Center in 2001, there was a rise in patriotism in America. They decided to put a free standing flag pole on their lawn and dedicate it to all the souls that had given their lives in the pursuit of freedom as well as the ones lost on 911.

Don's grandfather Hermann Bachmann, and Sal Grasso, a WWII decorated veteran and next door neighbor, were the guests of honor when they erected the flag pole. Don started off that year's ceremony with a talk directed at the young people in attendance, trying to instill the idea of the "cost of freedom".

Frank Grasso, Sal's son, played taps that day as the flag was raised. The Sweeneys recognize a veteran as guest of honor at each year's barbeque. Sal and Herman have both passed now, but Frank still plays taps every year.

Frank has been playing taps for his neighbors for the past thirteen years. It is becoming more common to hear a recorded version of taps played at funerals and memorial services. Lack of military band members created the necessity to use recordings of the national song of remembrance. Frank plays the 24 notes with precision and emotion which brings out emotion in all who hear him.

Each year the Sweeneys recognize another veteran from their neighbors and families that have served our country proudly. Alice Roberts, a Wave in WWII as a telegraph operator, was the guest of honor last year. In a largely male dominated war effort, Alice was a crucial part of the team working on decoding Japanese telegraph communications. She is a life-long Cranford resident at age 92 and still lives on Thomas St. John Martin a 90-year-old WWII veteran was the honoree in 2010. He served in the European theater and was an attendee at the parties since the beginning. He passed in 2012.
