CRANFORD WELCOMES IN THE HOLIDAY SEASON

On Friday, November 28th, The Cranford Chamber of Commerce held holiday events downtown at the North Union & Springfield Avenue Gazebo. The festivities were focused around decorating the gazebo tree and in the evening Santa arrived, by a fire truck, to light it. Children had the opportunity to meet with Santa and take a photo with him afterwards. The Cranford Jaycees offered free hot chocolate to attendees.

In his ground-breaking and controversial book, 'Socialcide: How America is Loving Itself to Death', Leo J. Battenhausen shows the other side of the American Dream – one where individuals are so obsessed with themselves that emotional and social problems have taken on a destructive new aggression. By exposing the problem through a unique fusion of social and psychological observations, Battenhausen hopes that citizens will stop committing 'Socialcide' and rebuild themselves into a race that is a model for global dignity and respect.

There's no way to sugar-coat the conclusions of Licensed Clinical Social Worker, Leo J. Battenhausen; Americans have become so obsessed with themselves that their country's once-great bedrock of dignity and respect is crumbling from underneath them. Childhood social problems prevail at record levels, crime is becoming more heinous and the average American is now just a deranged sociopathic shadow of their former self.

Battenhausen calls this shift 'Socialcide'. In his new book, 'Socialcide: How America is Loving Itself to Death', he presents this fatal problem in its true light, while urging all Americans to change and make their nation great once again.

11 CRITICAL HOME INSPECTION TRAPS TO BE AWARE OF WEEKS BEFORE LISTING YOUR HOME FOR SALE

Cranford NJ - According to industry experts, there are over 33 physical problems that will come under scrutiny during a home inspection when your home is for sale. A new report has been prepared which identifies the eleven most common of these problems, and what you should know about them before you list your home for sale.

Whether you own an old home or a brand new one, there are a number of things that can fall short of requirements during a home inspection. If not identified and dealt with, any of these 11 items could cost you dearly in terms of repair. That's why it's critical that you read this report before you list your home. If you wait until the building inspector flags these issues for you, you will almost certainly experience costly delays in the close of your home sale or, worse, turn prospective buyers away altogether. In most cases, you can make a reasonable pre-inspection yourself if you know what you're looking for, and knowing what you're looking for can help you prevent little problems from growing into costly and unmanageable ones.

To help homesellers deal with this issue before their homes are listed, a free report entitled "11 Things You Need to Know to Pass Your Home Inspection" has been compiled which explains the issues involved.

To hear a brief recorded message about how to order your FREE copy of this report call toll-free 1-888-243-5861 and enter 3002. You can call any time, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Get your free special report NOW to learn how to ensure a home inspection doesn't cost you the sale of your home.

CRANFORD ROTARY AT THE FOODBANK

Cranford Rotary recently spent a morning volunteering at the Community FoodBank of NJ in Hillside. “Working with the FoodBank is a natural fit for our Club”, says Rich Feder, the Cranford Rotarian who coordinated the event. “Both organizations are concerned with service, especially to the local community”.

On October 18, nine Cranford Rotarians, ten St Michael’s Religious Education students, and four of the students’ parents gathered at the FoodBank and packed Senior Boxes, which will provide food for two weeks for home-bound seniors. Word was that the Rotary group set something of a record, filling 361 boxes.

Mike Flynn coordinated the students who helped with the boxes, who were Kelly Baker, Dylan Fahy, Colin Flynn, Ella Fukazawa, Brendan Hanlon, Catherine McMullan, Sophia McMullan, Rebecca Newman, Erin Trojan, and Monika Wlodarski.

The Rotary Club of Cranford was established in 1923 and serves the Cranford community through service projects, sponsorships and scholarships. Over $250,000 in scholarship funds have been awarded over the last twenty years. Recent beneficiaries of other Rotary support include Cranford Family Care, Cranford First Aid Squad, Cranford PAL, Cerebral Palsy League and the Rotary International Foundation. The Cranford Rotary Club meets every Thursday morning at 7:45 am at the Cranford Community Center. Any man or woman, actively employed or retired, is cordially invited to attend our meeting. For additional information, please contact Membership Chair Mike Flynn at 908 272-2827.

CRANFORD POOL AND FITNESS CENTER

The Cranford Pool and Fitness Center is pleased to announce our new affiliation with Starfish Aquatics Institute. Beginning January 2015 the Starfish Aquatics curriculum will be used in our swim school program. Starfish Aquatics Institute, a nationally recognized curriculum for swim instruction, emphasizes water safety and promotes skill development by recognizing the achievements a swimmer makes as they advance through the program. In partnership with Human Kinetics, SAI offers state-of-the-art training courses and also provides risk management services to the aquatic industry.

Recently, staff members from the Cranford Pool and Fitness Center successfully completed the Starfish Swimming Instructor trainer course. The Starfish Swimming curriculum is designed for students aged 6 months to adult. Benchmarks are established at each stage in the program that combines both swimming and safety skills. Students will receive acknowledgment of individual achievement as they accomplish these benchmarks. Correct swimming techniques are taught from the very beginning, providing an easy transition to swim team or lifetime fitness swimming. Our Instructors are over 18 years of age and are certified swim trainers through Starfish Aquatics Institute.

Many are also Certified Water Safety instructors. All have training in First Aid, CPR and AED.

"We are very proud to have the Cranford Pool and Fitness Center join the SAI family," said Leslie Donovan, President of SAI. "We believe our focus on professionalism and accountability gives our Training Centers the opportunity to lead the industry in effective and safe programming."

Founded by Jill White, a renowned aquatics expert, SAI uses an integrated experiential approach to learning. All SAI training programs incorporate this innovative technique. Cranford Pool and Fitness Center will be using the StarGuard® Lifeguard Certification program and the Starfish Swimming® Instructor Certification program. "The Starfish Swimming program is a total curriculum based on core competencies that are ideal for any teaching situation," said Donovan. "It is an effective swimming instruction system for all ages and abilities, from infant through swim team."

CRANFORD VFW VETERANS BREAKFAST A HUGE SUCCESS

Submitted by Jim D'Arcy, Commander Cranford VFW Post #335

An overflow crowd attended Cranford VFW Post #335 for their annual Veterans' Breakfast held on Sunday, November 9th, at the Post Home in Cranford. In attendance at the affair were such notables as Assemblyman John Bramnick, Cranford Mayor Andis Kalnins, Chief of Police James Wozniak, Commissioner Carolyn Vallero, Commissioner and former Mayor Tom Hannens, and former Mayor Barbara Bilger, who is also a member of the VFW's Ladies Auxiliary.

The Key note speaker Lt. Col. Timothy

McLaughlin of Mountainside, gave a very exciting talk on his personal military experiences capped off with a poignant video presentation of his Iraqi deployment balanced against his personal family obligations.

As always, Social Studies instructor Paul Maloney of Hillside Avenue School, brought down several students to address the audience on what Veterans Day means to them. Students Tom Gilmartin, Faith Ricca and Rohan Atreya received terrific ovations from a very impressed crowd for their efforts.

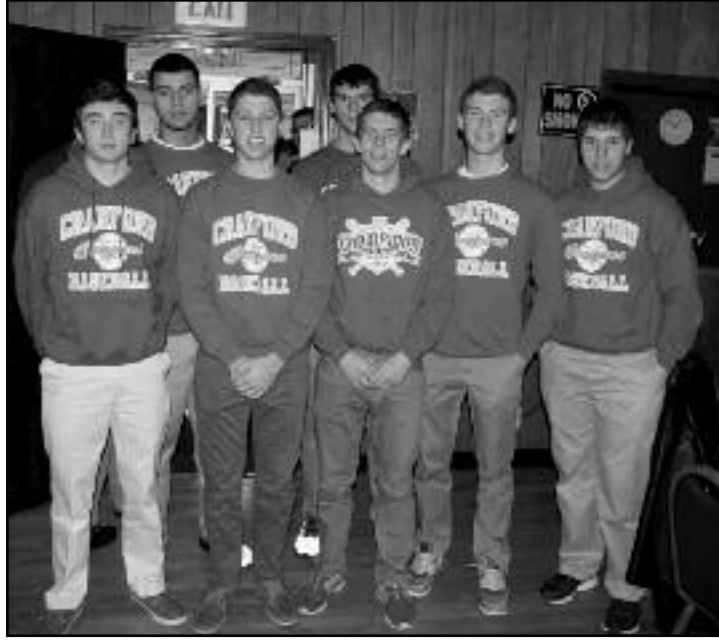

The annual "Role Call" was called which saw veterans of each war or conflict rise to their feet when their particular war was announced. When World War II was called, the five proud Veterans in attendance of that great war rose as one, to the delight of a thankful audience.

The "sit down" breakfast was wonderfully cooked and served to all the attendees by the VFW's Ladies Auxiliary who have been contributing this effort to the Post for decades.

DAMIEN OWENS MEMORIAL GOLF OUTING RAISES $21,000 TO BENEFIT CRANFORD FAMILY CARE

CRANFORD MONTHLY • Page 11 • December 2014

"It was just amazing," were the first words an overwhelmed Barry O'Donovan expressed when commenting on the success of the "Damien Owens Memorial Golf Outing".

The Memorial Golf Outing held on September 30, 2014 at the Shackamaxon Country Club in Scotch Plains drew 120 golfers with over 160 people attending the post-golf banquet. More importantly, the charity event brought over $21,000 in Damien Owens' memory to the benefit of Cranford Family Care, a non-profit organization helping needy families of Cranford.

"We originally figured we could get maybe 50 to 60 golfers and raise $5,000 on the high side for our cause but our numbers exceeded even our wildest dreams."

Damien Owens, a native of Inchicore, Dublin, Ireland was the much loved manager-greeter for the last 6 years at the Kilkenny House until his sudden death from an illness this past May. "He was just a lovely man, always greeting us with a smile and a warm handshake. A true gentleman," a patron said of Owens.

The memorial was the brainchild of O'Donovan, proprietor of the Kilkenny House Restaurant and Pub in Cranford. "When we started the pub some six years ago, Damien my best friend, was right there with me all the way. Who would have thought that in six short years we could have made such an impact on our community to attract such a grand amount of people and money to our cause?"

O'Donovan added "we never had a chance to properly say goodbye to Damien with an old fashioned Irish wake and knowing how generous and caring he was to the people of Cranford, this outing just gave us an opportunity to honor the man that meant so much to us."

Besides his time at the Kilkenny House, Owens had his long career as a Maitre D' at such well known New York City establishments as The Four Seasons, the Pierre Hotel and the Rainbow Room.

"We owe the success of our outing to our amazing committee, who simply outdid themselves through their tireless efforts," said O'Donovan. The committee consisted of Ellen Basil, Karen Salway, Barbara Bilger, Dottie Baniewicz, Jim D'Arcy and Jim D'Arcy III. O'Donovan also Livingston Avenue School students took some time to pay it forward! Mrs. Gosselin organized a wonderful giving experience during this Thanksgiving season. Third grade children were able to make apple pies to benefit Cranford families. They made 12 pies to donate to Cranford Family Care. The students in class 3N peeled, cut and mixed apples to make the pies. They showed excellent teamwork and were proud to be a part of such a good cause!

LETTING PEOPLE HELP

Not asking for assistance is seen as a virtue in too much of our world. False pride or fear of rejection causes many to avoid even just an inner acceptance of the fact that they could use the help of another person to improve their life. Many avoid even letting their friends know what they are feeling, thinking or doing, if they let themselves have a friend. Few even take the chance of making friends with their mate, if they let themselves mate. Revealing oneself to any other or even to oneself is often avoided as if it will make one too vulnerable to attack.

Our American culture of "ask no help" developed partly due to the utter lonely alienation from the foreign lands most of us came from. Whether we arrived on these shores by our choice or someone else's force we were a people cut off from all that had been important to us and which possibly was a support to us. If we were able to exercise choice and freedom in our endeavors we then had some chance to use some of our inner strengths to control our environment. The cultural and geographic environment may have had little familiar support or warmth that we could turn to. Family and friends were months and at least 3,000 or more miles away. We had to keep it all to ourselves. Even our former culture may not have allowed people to discuss their hurts with each other.

If we were slaves, we had no chance to exercise positive control over our life. We could only control our reactions, which also taught us to hold back the expressions of distress that might have allowed us to secure assistance. Those natural expressions could have brought us harm from those who controlled our lives.

However, even now, the illusion particularly amongst men, of having to take care of everything alone has a strong hold upon our culture. Asking for help has been viewed as a weakness rather than a strength. Women were sometimes allowed to voice some few inner needs without losing their pride and were more easily able to seek help. Actually, most men are brought to medical or psychological help by the women in their lives.

If one's parents could not help one because they could not understand or accept what had to be done, said or felt in order to help them we may have learned to feel that we are beyond help. We learned to think that one "should" not ask for assistance or understanding, a sad alienating attitude. Indeed, if our culture or family were resentful of our necessary requests for help, we may have unconsciously learned to hide our own needs since their expression caused us pain from those very persons that we needed the help from.

We may have been made to feel inferior for needing help in spite of the reality that all of us need it in some way at some time. If our parents were hurt by their parents when they requested assistance, then the chances are that we are passing on that difficulty to our children in some way. We may be intrusively helping them too much or not responding with comfortable intimacy of a respectful, joyful, freeing kind.

Usually if we have not been related to with comfortable intimacy then we will select a mate or relationship that repeats that pattern which we learned, without realizing that we are doing it. Even if we realize what we are doing we may not allow ourselves to make the inner connections that might help us to improve our life. To avoid feeling the pain of our life we may try to avoid the knowledge of it that might help us.

No one can solve all of life's deeper problems alone. Seeking psychotherapy can be the beginning of some hope for those who can hope.

POLICE AND TOWNSHIP EMPLOYEES PARTICIPATE IN "JEANS FOR TROOPS DAY" TO SUPPORT VETERANS

In the spirit of Veterans Day and in support of military veterans in the community, the Cranford Police Department joined together with employees from every Township department to participate in the GI Go Jeans for Troops Day on November 12, 2014. The GI Go Fund is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit charitable organization that provides assistance to all military veterans, with a focus on veterans from Iraq and Afghanistan, by helping them find employment, access housing, and secure their educational and health benefits. Jeans for Troops Day is a program that encourages businesses, schools, and government agencies to actively support projects that directly aid military veterans.

In exchange for providing a charitable donation of $5 to assist veterans, participating Cranford Township employees "dressed down" and wore jeans instead of business attire. For Cranford Police Officers, this means traditional uniform or utility pants were shelved for the day in lieu of blue jeans.

Cranford's participation in the program was suggested by Deputy Mayor Lisa Adubato and coordinated by Cathy Scotti, Assistant to the Township Administrator. Scotti stated that participation was voluntary, but over 50 employees signed on to support the charitable fundraising event.

Cranford Police Chief James Wozniak stated that his agency's participation was a no-brainer. "Any time we can make a contribution, and demonstrate the pride and respect we have for military veterans, we will be first in line." The chief added that several Cranford Police officers are military veterans.

Residents seeking additional information, or wishing to support the efforts of the GI Go Fund, can visit www.gigofund.org/jeansfortroops.

CRANFORD RESIDENT INVENTION PERI-GUM™ RAISING IN POPULARITY

The origins of Peri-gum come from a father's love and some ingenuity. Perigum, tag lined "Nature's gum solution", was local resident Joe Lesky's answer to his son's dire oral health dilemma.

Lesky, who now resides in Cranford, was born and raised in Carteret. He's a grandfather and a retired mechanical engineer, he has had a long history and success in inventing that has led to the Peri-Gum product.

After serving in World War II with the U.S. Navy, Lesky studied mechanical engineering at the University of Missouri. Soon after, Lesky returned to New Jersey and has had a history of successful career projects, including designing the world's largest fermentor for Merck, which was used to make Vitamin 12, as well as helping to invent and patent material to tune television sets with RCA in Somerville in 1961.

In 1997, Lesky's son, Jim, was diagnosed with severe periodontal disease at the age of 31. After hearing that the peridontist was insisting on surgery to remove his teeth, Jim and his father were inspired to come up with their own natural remedy. Combining his professional experience as an inventor and engineer, and his passion for natural remedies, Lesky designed Peri-Gum out of 7 herbal extracts and essential oils in the hopes of alleviating his son's oral health problems and staving off an expensive and invasive surgery.

After his son's success with using Peri-Gum, Lesky has expanded his clientele and has received a US patent for his unique design. There have been many personal accounts of Peri-Gum's successes in improving individual's gum health. Lesky's success is a testament to the man's hard work and dedication to his family's health.

RENNA MEDIA NAMED 2015 SMALL BUSINESS OF THE YEAR BY THE GATEWAY REGIONAL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The Gateway Regional Chamber of Commerce is the largest business association in the New York Metropolitan area with about 1,200 members. The group’s long history dates back to 1911 when it was founded as the Elizabeth Chamber of Commerce by John D. Rockefeller and other New Jersey industrialists. Today the Gateway Chamber serves as an umbrella organization for a dozen regional and local chambers and networking groups.

Each year the Chamber selects three businesses as their large, medium and small businesses of the year. They have selected the publishers of Cranford Monthly, Renna Media as the small business of the year for 2015. The honor of large company of the year goes to Linden petroleum company Infineum USA L.P. and Summit investment firm R Seelaus & Co. was named as the medium company of the year. The Linden Chamber of Commerce was named the Chamber of the Year.

Joe and Tina Renna were nominated and selected not only for the success of their business but the community service aspect of their business plan. Renna Media publishes twelve community newspapers that are mailed free to 58,000 homes and businesses on a monthly basis. The focus of the newspapers is to support the community service organizations in the towns that they publish in. Non-profits can promote events at no charge. The publications also recognize individuals and businesses that perform community service. The newspapers also serve as a calendar of upcoming events for the towns, schools, and libraries.

Cranford Tree Lighting 2014

Renna Media launched their newest publication Cranford Monthly in January of 2014, it is mailed to every home and business in town. It joins other Union County publications in Clark, Linden, Rahway, Kenilworth, and Union, along with six newspapers in their western zone, Warren, Watchung, Long Hill, Green Brook, Dunellen, and North Plainfield.

Tina and Joe also publish Around About Peterstown on a bi-monthly basis. This publication is less of a business venture and more of a labor of love. The Peterstown Newspaper attempts to record the oral history of the Elizabeth neighborhood Joe grew up in. In September of 2013 they published The Peterstown Book, a one hundred year history of the Italian American Neighborhood.

The biggest benefit to being a Gateway Chamber member is networking. The smallest companies have access to the largest. The Chamber hosts approximately 180 networking events a year. Prospective members are invited to events also. If a business is a member of one group then they are automatically a member of all groups.

The groups include:
Linden Chamber of Commerce
Clark Chamber of Commerce
Kenilworth Chamber of Commerce
Warren Chamber of Commerce
Somerset Hills Business Network
Irish Business Association
Gateway Association of Business Women
Workforce Education Committee
