MAYOR PRESENTS WATCHUNG GIRL SCOUTS WITH SILVER AWARD

On December 18, 2014 at a borough council meeting, Mayor Pote presented four silver award certificates to Girl Scouts from Watchung Troop # 65624; Councilwoman Beck-Clemens, also a girl scout, pinned the girls. The girls completed two different projects to earn their silver awards.

After months of getting to know residents at Brandywine Senior Living in Watchung, Allie and Gwen created two activity afternoons for the residents, inviting other girl scouts to join in. For the first activity day, the residents and scouts made crafts for Valentine's Day. The second day they created was a group sing along held in September. Both residents and girl scouts said it was a lot of fun.

Danae and Diana wanted to make days more fun for children with chronic illnesses. They contacted both local and national companies describing their ideas and asking for donations. Using the donations, they shopped, organized and put together activity boxes for children who have long stays in the hospital. They also donated new books to a collection for the children. In September, the girls, with some helpers, delivered 36 individualized boxes sorted by gender and age to Children's Specialized Hospital in Mountainside.

STUDENTS MAIL 15 LBS. OF LETTERS TO VETS

By Denis J. Kelly

Students in Social Studies classes at Watchung Hills Regional High School wrote and mailed 15 lbs. of letters to retired veterans, wounded warriors and active Armed Service personnel. The letters were timed to arrive during the holidays, and were sent through a program sponsored by Operation Gratitude, the national program that assembles care packages to deployed service men and women out of Van Nuys, Calif.

Social Studies teacher Michelle Krupsky, who was assisted in organizing the letter-writing effort by Social Studies teacher Jessica Kelly, said that this year's response to the request for letters was overwhelming. The previous years' totals had been about 9 lbs.

Each letter included a genuine, personal message of gratitude for the service member, Krupsky said. Some included insight on the letter writer's lives, and how the service of the veterans has contributed to the freedom of United States students to pursue their education beyond high school. Some included personal information and gratitude as some of their own family members have served.

Operation Gratitude reports that the troops have said the most cherished items in the care packages that are sent to them from the United States are the personal letters of appreciation from Americans, Krupsky said.

Other helpful hints from Operation gratitude include: Keep the message upbeat and positive; be thankful; feel free to share a little bit of yourself; do not discuss death or killing; avoid politics completely and religion in excess.

All letters were hand written, as per suggestion from Operation Gratitude. Recommended letter openings include: Dear Hero, Dear Brave One and Dear Veteran. All letters are written on regular 8x11 paper. No greeting cards were used.

For more information of participating in the letter writing effort, visit www.operationgratitude.com.

HILLS STUDENTS HAVE "HEART"

Students and parents of the Watchung Hills Regional High School Marching Band and Color Guard were out and about in the community on Sunday, Dec. 7, contributing to the holiday spirit.

Every year, the Marching Band participates in the Adopt-a-Family program sponsored by the Hearts of Watchung organization. The band fulfills a wish list of holiday gifts and necessities for a family in need. On Sunday, representatives of the Marching Band delivered several bundles of gifts and necessities to the Hearts of Watchung organization. The organization was collecting the donations at the Firemen's Exempt Hall, between the Watchung Fire House and Watchung Borough on Mountain Boulevard. For more information about the Hearts of Watchung organization, contact Cindy Homer at cindyhomer1@gmail.com.

ONE BOOK WATCHUNG - A WRINKLE IN TIME

Did you enjoy the movie, FROZEN? Jennifer Lee, who with Chris Buck wrote and co-directed Disney's blockbuster movie, FROZEN, will be taking on the Newbery award-winning A WRINKLE IN TIME by Madeleine lots of copies of the book for borrowing. The free book has a beautifully illustrated cover. Anna Quindlen's inspiring introduction of appreciation will encourage readers of all ages to keep going.

As you may know, Madeleine L'Engle's A WRINKLE IN TIME is a science-fantasy classic in which 10-year old Meg, with her younger brother and a school friend, travel through time to rescue Meg's father on a distant, dark planet. The children's experiences and choices, give readers insight into what matters most in life. They confront the tyranny of conformity, a theme as relevant today in governments and workplaces as it was 50 years ago. As Anna Quindlen writes, "Conformity knows no time or place; it is the struggle all of us face, to be ourselves despite the overwhelming pressure to be like everyone else."

Can you see why one of the creators of FROZEN was interested in turning this book into a film? Join us in ONE BOOK WATCHUNG: A WRINKLE IN TIME. Be one of the lucky readers to pick up a free paperback copy at the circulation desk beginning January 12. And check the online for upcoming discussions featuring A WRINKLE IN TIME.

L'Engle. Now you can read the book before it is transformed into a movie.

W.H. Auden said, "There are no good books which are only for children." So, Watchung Library patrons are invited to read A WRINKLE IN TIME as part of the ONE BOOK WATCHUNG community event beginning January 12. The first 24 families who sign up will receive a paperback edition of the book (one free book per family). Of course the library has

ONE BOOK WATCHUNG

From January 12 to February 26.

Copies of the free books will be available for pick up beginning January 12.

On February 26, there will be a book club discussion about the book:

NEVER JUDGE A BOOK BY ITS MOVIE

Ages: For all ages

The February book is A Wrinkle in Time by Madeleine L'Engle.

The book group will be part of the One Book Watchung activities.

This book discussion group will focus on books that have movie, dvd or TV show versions. All readers and watchers interested in the title of the month are welcome to attend, regardless of age. If you already read or saw the story and want to join the discussion, please come! The group will usually meet the 4th Thursday of the month: Thursday, February

SOCIALCIDE™

Searing New Book Exposes Nation's Rotting Social Fabric, Proving Americans Are Literally "Loving Themselves to Death".

In his ground-breaking and controversial book, 'Socialcide: How America is Loving Itself to Death', Leo J. Battenhausen shows the other side of the American Dream – one where individuals are so obsessed with themselves that emotional and social problems have taken on a destructive new aggression. By exposing the problem through a unique fusion of social and psychological observations, Battenhausen hopes that citizens will stop committing 'Socialcide' and rebuild themselves into a race that is a model for global dignity and respect.

There's no way to sugar-coat the conclusions of Licensed Clinical Social Worker, Leo J. Battenhausen; Americans have become so obsessed with themselves that their country's once-great bedrock of dignity and respect is crumbling from underneath them. Childhood social problems prevail at record levels, crime is becoming more heinous and the average American is now just a deranged sociopathic shadow of their former self.

Battenhausen calls this shift 'Socialcide'. In his new book, 'Socialcide: How America is Loving Itself to Death', he presents this fatal problem in its true light, while urging all Americans to change and make their nation great once again.

NY Times Bestselling Author, Shanna Hogan said, "In Socialcide author Leo J. Battenhausen has put together a compelling examination of the American epidemic of extreme narcissism that has invaded society." Battenhausen's engrossing account of this dangerous trend is thought-provoking and paints a scary picture of the impact of the trend. How dangerous is America's obsession with self-absorption? Perhaps "selfies" are just the latest example of how full of one's self one can get."

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY INDUCTED 106 WATCHUNG HILLS REGIONAL HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

Some 106 seniors at Watchung Hills Regional High School were inducted into the National Honor Society at a ceremony attended by the students and their families on Thursday, Dec. 4, in the school's Performing Arts Center. Students received the congratulations of administration and faculty members, and were each called on stage and presented with the National Honor Society Gold Honor Cord, which they will wear next in June on graduation day.

The National Honor Society was founded in 1921 and is designed "to recognize academic achievement while developing other characteristics essential to citizens in a democracy," according to the program distributed to everyone who attended the ceremony. The Watchung Hills chapter is one of 13,500 chapters in the United States.

Every year, students are asked to select a teacher they have had at Watchung Hills who should be named honorary member of their National Honor Society chapter. Social Studies teacher Ken Karnas was selected by the students to be so honored, and new student member Charlotte Kwon made the presentation. Kwon said that Karnas teaches with an enthusiasm that is contagious, and that he makes learning fun. He also goes beyond merely teaching the subject matter.

The newly inducted students are: Catherine Alapatt, Kristina Alfano, Mark Armanious, Camille Bahr, Nicholas Berger, Shayna Bezozo, Tuhina Bhat, Marlene Blajsa, Melissa Bonaccorso, Remy Borinsky, Mikaela Brandon, Katherine Briski, Nicholas Briski, Aaron Bu, Michael Carlucci, Brian Corneiro, Avery Carrico, Kimberly Chao, Karen Chi, and Anthony Cuonzo.

Also, Joseph Da, Helen Dai, Kaila Davis, Jessica DeLuca, Laura DeAngelis, Alexa Deo, Benjamin Devico, Alexa Farrah, Carina Farrah, Hannah Feldman, Elizabeth Fogarty, Olivia Fogel, Mitchel Fung, Simran George, Jason Gerber, Jennifer Gilmore, Andre Gou, Ashay Grover, Kevin Guo, Jaytin Gupta, Amanda Halper, Brandon Hao, Claudia Hirsekorn, Amy Hu, Matthew Hunt, Allison Ivan, and Garrett Jochnau.

Also, Eshan Kaul, Jacquelyn Keyasko, Stuart Ki, Matthew Kiel, Jacob Krowicki, Sarah Kweit, Charlotte Kwon, Amanda Larson, Joy Li, Christina Liao, Devin Lin, Lucy Liu, Sharon Liu, Amanda Marques, Katherine Mathison, Jill McInerney, Ashley Metzler, Dana Nara, Anh Ngo, Rebecca Novik, Benjamin Overzat, Rebecca Pasch, Joseph Pecoraro, Matthew Peer, Isabella Perone, Rachel Pester, Andrew Piccirilli, and Claudia Przybylski.

Also, Patrick Qi, Jason Regimbal, Brittany Rica, Evan Riddell, Cara Rosamilia, Paul Roushdy, Lynette Santhakumar, Valeria Saro-Cortes, Anoushka Saxena, Katrine Schechter, Grace Schwartzstein, Ryan Shen, Angeline Shieh, Victoria Sipe, Elizabeth Skrobacz, Sarah Smith, Samantha Snyder, Hannah Song, and Abhay Srinivas,

STUDENTS VISIT HOLOCAUST MEMORIAL MUSEUM IN WASHINGTON, D.C.

Twenty students in the elective, college-level honors section of the Holocaust & Genocide class at Watchung Hills Regional High School traveled to the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum in Washington, D.C., on Thursday, Oct. 16, to meet a Holocaust survivor and get a better understanding of the just how widespread was the intolerance toward Jews under the Nazi regime in Germany and other countries in Europe before and during World War II.

Students also augment their classroom studies with visits to the Museum of Jewish heritage in downtown Manhattan, and the Holocaust Museum and Tolerance Center in Glen Cove, N.Y.

For more information about the Holocaust Memorial Museum, go to www.ushmm.org.

(above, l-r) Natasha Yankaskas of Millington, was among the 20 students in the college-level honors section of the Holocaust & Genocide Honors class, taught at Watchung Hills Regional High School by Social Studies teacher Ryan Murray, right, who traveled on Thursday, Oct. 16, to the United States Holocaust Museum in Washington, D.C. Since 2010, Murray has incorporated the trip into the class curriculum. Several students described the experience as being both understandably "heavy" and "overwhelming," but also helpful to the understanding about just how widespread was the intolerance against Jews under the Nazi regime in Germany and other countries in Europe leading up to and during World War II.
