EDUCATION FOUNDATION BETS ON A SUCCESSFUL EVENT

The Mountainside Education Foundation is excited to hold their 3rd Casino Night event on Saturday, November 21, 2015 from 7PM – 11PM at Pollard Hall at Our Lady of Lourdes Church.

Enjoy a fun-filled casino night with something for everyone including professional gambling tables, music, food & drinks, prizes, and a Silent Auction.

All proceeds from the event will fund educational grants that benefit the students within the Mountainside School District in the areas of arts, science, technology, mathematics, writing, and community service.

The Mountainside Education Foundation would like to thank all their Event Sponsors for helping to make this night a success. Sponsorship opportunities are still available for both businesses and individuals at a variety of levels.

The MEF is a registered 501(c)(3) organization and all sponsorship donations are tax deductible. Contact Amanda Gaim agalm@verizon.net for more information.

(above) Last year's event proved quite successful. All who attended had a memorable time.

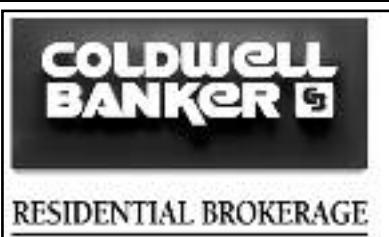

DEERFIELD STUDENTS EXPERIENCE A ONE OF A KIND NIGHT

It all began when Jared Rosenblum, Deerfield School music teacher, received an email from Sara Ting, President of World Unity, a non profit organization committed to eliminating all forms of prejudice. She asked Jared if there was any way he could bring students to the UN to sing for a major celebration on Sat., Sept. 26. Jared immediately reached out to 7 kids from Deerfield School, 3 from his private youth chorus that teamed up with singers from The Lower Hudson Valley Youth Chorus and the New York City Housing Authority Youth Chorus. The children, ranging between 7-13 years old, had the distinct honor to perform at the United Nations General Assembly in celebration of the 150th anniversary of the International Telecommunications Union. They were asked to perform a specific song called "We all See the Stars" by John Cambriello, inspired by the poem "The Sun Poem" by Sara Ting. The song is about embracing and accepting one another.

"It was truly a magical night. Kids from all three groups bonded and quickly became great friends just like the words of the song denote," said Jared Rosenblum, continuing, "I don't think the students will ever forget this night. It's not every day that they will get to perform for such an amazing audience at such an important venue."

LEVI CORY HOUSE RESTORATION UPDATE UPCOMING FUND RAISING EVENTS

For residents wondering about Mountainside's version of "This Old House" located near the Mountainside Library Parking lot, here's a review and update on the house and its restoration progress. The Levi Cory House (circa 1815) was originally located at the corner of Mountain Ave. and New Providence Rd. in Mountainside and was acquired and moved by the Mountainside Restoration Committee in 2013. The new owners of the original property had plans to redevelop the land and allowed the Committee to take ownership and move the historic structure.

The Levi Cory House, in 1895, was the first Children's Country Home, where children from cities to the east would visit the country during their summers. The house, owned by Levi Cory, was rented to a group of local ladies who ran the Children's Country Home. Many of the visiting children were found to have medical issues and the Home eventually became more of a medical retreat than a recreational retreat. The Children's Country Home was later relocated to a larger facility on New Providence Road and, in the 1960s, was renamed Children's Specialized Hospital.

The Levi Cory House, which is currently undergoing restoration, has a brand new roof, new foundation, new chimneys; and has undergone some clean-up work in the interior and exterior. Mountainside's Padraig Monahan, Walter Heckel and Gary Wagner have been instrumental in helping with the foundation and repairing exterior areas of the house to allow for the roofing and siding repairs. While there is still much to do including restoration of the siding, painting, interior repairs and the installation of utilities (plumbing, heating, electricity), the house is steps closer to opening, in the future, as a museum for children's interests. Funds are needed for the continued restoration. Contractors who would like to help the community by volunteering services are always welcome!

A showcase fund raiser featuring an educational discussion on the benefits of essential oils will take place at the Deacon Andrew Hetfield House. Young Living Essential Oils will be featured and for sale during this open house fund raiser to be held on Thursday, November 19 from 10am-1pm and 7pm-9pm.

Also, mark your calendars for the annual Gingerbread Open House events at the Hetfield House to be held on Saturday, December 12 for adults from 1-3pm and on Sunday, December 13 for families from 1-4pm. Each day will feature refreshments and holiday activities- including visits from Santa & Mrs. Clause and beautiful holiday decorations inside and out. Donations are always appreciated at the door.

The Levi Cory House and the Deacon Andrew Hetfield House are located at Constitution Plaza (Watchung Ave., off Birch Hill Rd.) adjacent to the Mountainside Library. The Mountainside Restoration Committee is a committee of volunteers governed by the Borough of Mountainside whose purpose is to maintain and restore the Deacon Andrew Hetfield House and Levi Cory House; and collect and save historic information and items from destruction. For further information or to donate funds or services, please call (908)789-9420; or, go to: www.mountainsidehistory.org

(above) Recently, workers removed the existing roof in preparation for the new roofing on Mountainside's historic Levi Cory House. The house was once used, in the 1890s, as The Children's Country home - later to become Children's Specialized Hospital. When renovations are complete, the building will be home to a museum for children's interests.

LOCAL BATTLE REENACTMENT IN MINIATURE AT THE HETFIELD HOUSE

During the weekend of October 17-18, many visitors ranging from children to seniors, visited Mountainside's historic Deacon Andrew Hetfield House during Union County's Four Centuries in a Weekend open house event. Each year, Union County celebrates its cities' and towns' heritage by featuring the historic sites throughout the County.

John Sileo, of Mountainside, a member of Tri-State Historical Education Simulations, Inc., presented a lively discussion on the Battle of Springfield fought nearby on June 23rd, 1780. This victory, by George Washington's Colonial Army, discouraged any significant action by the British forces in the northern colonies for the rest of the American Revolutionary War. Visitors were entranced by Mr. Sileo's discussion and his intricate dioramas.

The discussion was augmented by a diorama of the military actions including hundreds of Mr. Sileo's hand-painted soldiers provided by the Maplewood Hobby store. A diorama depicting the shots fired by a British soldier, which killed Hannah Caldwell, at Connecticut Farms in Union was also displayed. The killing of Parson Caldwell's wife, Hannah, is depicted on the seal of Union County.

In addition, visitors enjoyed displays, throughout the Hetfield House, which included many items of memorabilia representing Four Centuries of War including an 18th century cannonball, military uniforms, personal accounts of local soldiers and many other personal items from local veterans.

On November 11th, Veteran's Day, the Deacon Andrew Hetfield House will host Veteran's from the local VFW for lunch following their ceremony at Constitution Plaza. A dedication of new personalized bricks, forming the walkway to the Hetfield House, will also take place.

While visiting the Hetfield House, guests should take note of the neighboring Levi Cory House (circa 1818) which was acquired and moved by the Mountainside Restoration

Committee in 2013. The Levi Cory House, which is currently undergoing restoration, has a brand new roof, new foundation, new chimneys and has undergone some clean-up work in the interior and exterior. While there is still much to do, the house is steps closer to opening, in the future, as a museum for children's interests.

WESTFIELD AREA Y KINDERGARTENERS LEARN ABOUT FIRE SAFETY

October was Fire Prevention Month and as a part of their lesson on fire safety, the Westfield Area Y's students from Mrs. Hahn's and Mrs. Sanchez's full day Kindergarten classes visited the Westfield Fire House.

The children were so excited to see the firemen and the big fire trucks! They put on their red fire hats, listened and learned all about Fire Safety and what to do in the event of a fire.

Thanks to the Annual Support Campaign for strong kids, families and seniors, at the Westfield Area Y no one who is experiencing a bona fide financial hardship is denied the opportunity to participate.

In 2014, we provided $423,604 in direct financial assistance to 271 individuals, primarily for child care and summer camp services.

When you give to the Y, your gift has a meaningful, enduring impact right here in our community.

SENIOR HOUSING AVAILABLE IN BRIDGEWATER AND WARREN TOWNSHIP

Cooperative Housing Corporation Units Available Now for Low/Moderate Income Seniors

Cooperative Housing Corporation (CHC) has housing units available immediately for low-to-moderate income senior citizens in Somerset County. CHC housing includes private spacious rooms in single-level ranch homes for singles and couples, with fees for rent and services based on each individual's income and assets.

"The rapidly rising cost of supportive housing and long-term care for seniors puts a tremendous burden on both senior citizens and their families," said Angelo DiOrio, Executive Director, Cooperative Housing Corporation. "CHC is pleased to offer a services-based solution with available units that provide beautiful and affordable places to live, based on an individual's ability to pay."

While the term "long term care" (LTC) is most often associated with medical or health based care, such as Assisted Living or Nursing Homes, the reality is that for many seniors the "long" part begins well before the need for that kind of "care". Frequently, what is required is simply a housing arrangement that includes some supportive services, and not daily medical assistance. As the cost of nursing and assisted living settings continues to skyrocket, alternatives to defer their need for such care are critical to the average senior. CHC offers a senior housing option that extends a senior's ability to afford a longer period of self-budgeted LTC.

CHC offers two different types of housing for seniors age 62 and older, with income less than $58,600: Independent living for seniors who are capable of managing their own needs, and Supportive housing for seniors who need some assistance with the activities of daily living. Fees for rent never exceed 40% of one's income while services are paid for on a sliding scale based on each individual's income and assets. One monthly combined fee includes all CHC expenses!

In CHC homes, residents have their own private suite with bedroom and full bathroom, and share the spacious common areas including living room, dining room, porch, den, spa and hobby room. This shared living model offers the best of both worlds: privacy in one's own space, yet companionship when desired.

"I enjoy living here because I have my own room and the company of my housemates at the same time," said Don Sayre, 83, Bridgewater. "I love having my own bathroom!"

Food preparation, housekeeping, even nursing oversight, are provided at a fraction of the cost of other housing alternatives, while Cooperative Housing actively promotes independent living, in a mutually supportive environment. Residents enjoy the comforts of sharing a ranch-style house rather than a large facility. To learn more, visit www.CHChousing.org or call 908-526-8130.
