THREE OFFICERS HONORED FOR CRISIS INTERVENTION WORK

On December 7, 2015, New Jersey held its first Annual C.I.T. (Crisis Intervention Team) Conference at the Rutgers University Center for Law and Justice. In attendance were representatives of the state Attorney General's Office, members of law enforcement from state, county, and local agencies, and civilian stakeholders, including members of N.A.M.I. (National Alliance on Mental Illness).

C.I.T. is a program which provides training and resources to police officers when interacting with people with a mental illness. It teaches them to identify and de-escalate a situation and then provide referral services. The purpose is to avoid a confrontation which can often lead to an injury or death to the mentally-ill person or to the police officer.

The Linden Police Department has been a pioneer agency in bringing C.I.T. training to other departments across the county and state, thanks to the cooperation and support of the Union County Prosecutor's Office and both former and present county prosecutors.

During this conference, three Linden officers were honored for dealing with a mentally unbalanced man who, on two separate occasions, had barricaded himself into an apartment, and armed with a knife, had threatened to kill himself as well as any law enforcement officers who approached him. The training provided to these officers resulted in the man obtaining mental health treatment at a local hospital and no injury to any of the responding police officers.

LINDEN POLICE HIRE 5 NEW OFFICERS

The Linden Police Department added five new officers to its force on January 6, 2016 in a ceremony held at Linden City Hall. The manpower brings the department's complement up to 125 officers.

Families, friends, and colleagues were on hand to view the swearing-in ceremony and congratulate the new recruits. Linden Mayor Derek Armstead and Police Chief James M. Schulhafer also welcomed the men to the police force and wished them success in their careers.

11 CRITICAL HOME INSPECTION TRAPS TO BE AWARE OF WEEKS BEFORE LISTING YOUR HOME FOR SALE

Linden NJ - According to industry experts, there are over 33 physical problems that will come under scrutiny during a home inspection when your home is for sale. A new report has been prepared which identifies the eleven most common of these problems, and what you should know about them before you list your home for sale.

Whether you own an old home or a brand new one, there are a number of things that can fall short of requirements during a home inspection. If not identified and dealt with, any of these 11 items could cost you dearly in terms of repair. That's why it's critical that you read this report before you list your home. If you wait until the building inspector flags these issues for you, you will almost certainly experience costly delays in the close of your home sale or, worse, turn prospective buyers away altogether. In most cases, you can make a reasonable pre-inspection yourself if you know what you're looking for, and knowing what you're looking for can help you prevent little problems from growing into costly and unmanageable ones.

To help homesellers deal with this issue before their homes are listed, a free report entitled "11 Things You Need to Know to Pass Your Home Inspection" has been compiled which explains the issues involved.

To hear a brief recorded message about how to order your FREE copy of this report call toll-free 1-888-243-5861 and enter 1003. You can call any time, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Get your free special report NOW to learn how to ensure a home inspection doesn't cost you the sale of your home.

SCHOOL 2 STUDENTS HAVE FUN, LITERALLY!

Students in both third and fourth grade at School Number 2, in Linden, were learning about figures of speech during the first week of January. Students in Miss. Jennifer Bartolomeo's third grade class learned about the differences between literal and figurative language. Students in Ms. Nicole Loftus' fourth grade class were learning about idioms.

After students in both classes learned about literal language, figurative language, and idioms; the classes came together to play a game in teams of two. The students played a concentration style game by matching the figurative language or idiom to the real meaning.

By bringing the two classes together, the students created new friendships and were able to assist each other in turn taking. The students were enjoying themselves all while being challenged academically. Both the students and the teachers had an exciting day coming together!

AN HOUR OF CODE CAN LEAD TO A CAREER IN COMPUTER SCIENCE

Linden High School students participated in An Hour of Code during Computer Science Education Week in December. The Hour of Code is explicitly designed to demystify code and demonstrate that anyone can learn about the field. It is a global movement by Computer Science Education Week and Code.org reaching tens of millions of students in 180+ countries through a one-hour introduction to computer science and computer programming. Linden High Students participated in activities ...working with Star Wars, Minecraft, and Frozen to learn programming basics. In Mrs. Sepulveda's room you heard clicking and saw students dragging blue rectangular blocks into line on a blank section of the screen as they coded with confidence. The students closed the week by having Persado's Director of Engineering for Enterprise Services, Jose Santiago Jr. speak with classes. Linden High School Computer Science teacher, Holly Sepulveda, has students participate in various coding activities, not only during CS Education Week, but also throughout the school year. Computer Science teaches problem solving skills and our students are up for the challenge.

THE GREAT DEPRESSION LESSON

Could you imagine a time that people were forced to make their homes out of scraps, including old tires or cardboard boxes? On January 11, 2016, Linden High School students in Mrs. Monica Goncalves's, Mr. Robert Mangel's, and Mrs. Meghann Mohan's US History II class were tasked with this situation and had to budget mortgage, car loan, electric bill, phone bill, and their medical bills during the Great Depression.

Many families in the Great Depression were too poor to afford housing and some of them were forced to sell all of their belonging including their family pictures. They then moved to "Hoovervilles", areas of makeshift homes next to cities. The name "Hooverville" mocked the president, Herbert Hoover and his policies. Students witnessed the struggles first hand and were able to capture a glimpse of one of the worst times in American history.

THINGS AREN'T ALWAYS WHAT THEY SEEM

On January 13th, the second grade Gifted and Talented students from Linden attended the "Union County Gifted and Talented Association's Things Aren't Always

What They Seem" convocation field trip held at the Rahway Recreation Center. The convocation was attended by 93 G&T second grade students from Linden, Elizabeth, and Roselle and was organized by Linden's Gifted and Talented teachers Stephanie Webb and Rosa Ramirez. The students learned about visual perception and optical illusions while collaborating with other gifted students from different schools.

SCHOOL 8 COMPOSER OF THE MONTH

Mr. Michael Clark, the instrumental music teacher at School No. 8, certainly hit a high note with Mrs. Kathleen Burke's English as a Second Language students when he unveiled his Composer of the Month bulletin board for January! The students were covering the Journeys (comprehensive English Language Arts program) story Ah Music! with Mrs. Kathleen Burke when they made a connection to a captioned picture in the story and Mr. Michael Clark's eye-catching and informative bulletin board.

(above) Using the clues on Mr. Clark's bulletin board and evidence in the story students (l-r) Natalia Zmuda, Abigail Gomez, Valentina Bacerra and Oscar Membrane Lopez were able to determine that the Composer of the Month was Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart. We can't wait for next month's bulletin board so we can make more "harmonious connections" across the curriculum at School No. 8. Photo by Linden School No. 8
