EAGLE SCOUT, TODD SWEENEY, SERVES TENNIS COMMUNITY

Words like trustworthy, loyal, helpful, friendly, courteous, kind, obedient, cheerful, thrifty, brave, clean and reverent help guide an Eagle Scout through his life. The life skills and responsibility to complete tasks through managing others through example are traits that are revered by higher education and employers. It is the lifelong goal of many young men, only 4-5% of young men that join Boy Scouting ever reach the level of Eagle Scout. To achieve the rank a scout must complete a series of merit badges that represents life skills that are selected to give young men talents that are not addressed in standard education programs. Thirteen are mandatory eight are selected by the scout to meet his individual interests. He must also complete a service-management project of a grand scale that benefits his church or community. The purpose of the project is to allow the scout to show his ability to manage people and resources to complete something in a larger scale that they have ever done before. It also instills the good feeling that comes to one who commits to community service.

Todd Sweeney achieved an impressive 39 merit badges during his six years of scouting. He selected the renovation of the Hillside Avenue tennis courts as his service-management project. As a member of the Cranford Varsity Tennis team since freshman year, he saw a need for a better facility for the team's home court. Hurricane winds had bent the fence poles, and tore down the wind screens from the fences. There was not ample seating for visiting spectators.

Working with Steve Robertazzi or the Cranford Recreation Department, Todd created a grand plan. Many thought it was possibly was a little too grand, but he felt it was possible. He submitted his plans to Patriots Path Council and was approved to start.

With the help of a local mason, Jose Dasilva, Todd and his team dug out and framed two 12 X 8 poured concrete patios for which they designed, constructed and attached two ten foot benches that were painted to match the existing benches. With the help of his dad he straightened 24 vertical fence poles using canvas straps attached to the back of the family minivan. He then designed and produced two 16 foot signs that marked the courts as Cranford Cougar's home courts. The signs also act as sunshades to block the setting sun that is a factor to spectators during the late afternoon matches. The tattered wind screens were then replaced. In all Todd's team logged over 400 man hours on the project that took 13 full days of hard work. The cost of the project was over $2000 and was completely funded by Todd's efforts of collecting Christmas trees for recycling and selling plaques to attach to his benches with the names of present and former Cranford High School tennis team alumnus, coaches and local businesses.

Todd's Boy Scout first aid training and his new love of service to his community has fueled his passion as a certified EMT volunteer of the Cranford First Aid Squad. His duty shift each Thursday has him on duty from 6:00 pm until 6 am at which time he goes to high school for his regular school day. He now plans to take his passion and make it a career as he will enter a 5 year master's degree program in Physician's Assistant Studies in the fall.

Todd's scouting career was topped off by his election as Senior Patrol leader, a youth position of management within the troop. As SPL he is responsible for all activities in the organization.

When asked what his favorite adventure of scouting, Todd answered immediately, his trip to scouting's ultimate destination, Philmont Scouting Ranch in Cimarron New Mexico. At age 14 as the youngest member of a crew of 9 scouts and three adults, Todd carried a sixty pound backpack for a 9 day trek of over 100 miles to the top of the revered Mt. Baldy at a height of over 12,000 feet. Trips like these are designed to push a young man past what he thinks is possible for him to complete. It helps him live the new scouting motto "Be prepared for life."

11 CRITICAL HOME INSPECTION TRAPS TO BE AWARE OF WEEKS BEFORE LISTING YOUR HOME FOR SALE

Cranford NJ - According to industry experts, there are over 33 physical problems that will come under scrutiny during a home inspection when your home is for sale. A new report has been prepared which identifies the eleven most common of these problems, and what you should know about them before you list your home for sale.

Whether you own an old home or a brand new one, there are a number of things that can fall short of requirements during a home inspection. If not identified and dealt with, any of these 11 items could cost you dearly in terms of repair. That's why it's critical that you read this report before you list your home. If you wait until the building inspector flags these issues for you, you will almost certainly experience costly delays in the close of your home sale or, worse, turn prospective buyers away altogether. In most cases, you can make a reasonable pre-inspection yourself if you know what you're looking for, and knowing what you're looking for can help you prevent little problems from growing into costly and unmanageable ones.

To help homesellers deal with this issue before their homes are listed, a free report entitled "11 Things You Need to Know to Pass Your Home Inspection" has been compiled which explains the issues involved.

To hear a brief recorded message about how to order your FREE copy of this report call toll-free 1-888-243-5861 and enter 3002.

You can call any time, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Get your free special report NOW to learn how to ensure a home inspection doesn't cost you the sale of your home.

CRANFORD DAR DONATES CHILDREN'S BOOK TO LIBRARY FOR BLACK HISTORY MONTH

Crane's Ford Daughters of the American Revolution presented the book "Patriots of African Descent in the Revolutionary War" to the Cranford Public Library Children's Department for Black History Month. "Many children do not know that African indentured servants, as well as free blacks and slaves, all assisted in the founding of our nation. There were between 5,000 and 20,000 patriots of African and Native American descent who served in the Continental Forces under the command of General George Washington.

The new picture book "Patriots of African Descent in the Revolutionary War: Part 1" is historical fiction, told by the family historian to his great-grandson about their family's military and patriotic service as African-Americans during the Revolutionary War. The two are direct descendants of two patriots. One was a free black man, Sergeant Isaac Brown, who served in the 7th, 11th, and 15th Virginia Regiments of the Continental Line. Readers eight and older can be fascinated as they learn about our country's forgotten patriots.

Author Marion T. Lane is a retired public school educator. Originally from Philadelphia, she now resides in Bucks County, Pennsylvania. Her new book is titled "More Than One Ancestry." She is an African-American member of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Society of Descendants of Washington's Army at Valley Forge."

Fostering knowledge of and preserving our American History is a main focus of the DAR. It is a national service organization of women who have ancestry to participants of the American Revolution, through both combat and those who provided goods and services for the American cause. The website is dar.org to learn more.

(above) Children's Librarian Lauren Antolino was presented the book "Patriots of African Descent in the Revolutionary War," donated for Black History Month by the Cranford DAR. Chapter members Mary Leonard (center) and Barbara Krause (right) made the presentation with Kiran Davis, 4th grade, and Sienna Griffin, 2nd grade, students at Brookside Place School, the first to receive it.

BOY SCOUT TROOP 75 ANNOUNCES THREE NEW EAGLE SCOUTS

Boy Scout Troop 75 is pleased to announce that three Scouts recently achieved the rank of Eagle. Andrew Ramirez, William Pritchett and Christian Wurzbarger, all of Cranford, were recently honored at a meeting of the Cranford Township Committee. Eagle Scout is the highest rank attainable in the Boy Scouting program. Requirements include earning at least 21 merit badges and demonstrating ideals of service and leadership, including organizing and leading an extensive service project. Fewer than 5 percent of Boy Scouts nationwide attain this commendable rank.

"It's so rewarding to see these young men, who benefited from the Boy Scout program, give that leadership back to the community. These guys represent the, 'Best of the best,'" reflected Joe Duffy, assistant Scoutmaster and Eagle Scout coach.

Andrew Ramirez is a freshman at Loyola University in Baltimore, MD. His Eagle Scout community service project involved refurbishing the landscaping at The Jumble Store, a Cranford thrift shop run by the Junior League of Elizabeth-Plainfield, an area non-profit organization that serves families in crisis. The project included fundraising, organizing supplies and materials, and directing volunteers. During his scouting career, Andrew attended National Youth Leadership Training, completed a backpacking trek at Philmont Scout Ranch in New Mexico, and attended the Florida Sea Base sailing expedition, among other achievements. Andrew is the second son in his family to achieve this rank. His brother Patrick is also an Eagle.

William Pritchett is a student at Syracuse University in Syracuse, NY. His Eagle Scout initiative addressed the issue of homelessness. He collaborated with the Street Light Mission in Elizabeth on a multi-pronged project. First he coordinated a coat drive that amassed more than 800 coats and then led a distribution event for families. He also planned and held a school assembly that was attended by more than 900 students to raise awareness among his peers about homelessness in Union County. Finally, he built storage units for the Street Light Mission, intended for use in future projects. During his scouting career, William served in various leadership positions within Troop 75, attended the first National Boy Scout Jamboree at the Summit-Bechtel facility in West Virginia, and went on a backpacking and canoeing trek at Sabattis Adventure Camp in the Adirondacks. He also attended National Youth Leadership Training. He joins his brother John as a third generation Eagle Scout.

Christian Wurzbarger is a student at the University of Vermont in

Burlington where he is studying Environmental Science. His project provided emergency preparedness instructions to Cranford residents and businesses. He also planned and coordinated two community educational sessions that included the preparation of first aid and emergency supply kits. Christian served in various troop roles, attended National Youth Leadership Training, completed two backpacking treks to Philmont Scout Ranch in New Mexico, and attended the Sea Base sailing expedition in Florida. He is the 133rd Eagle Scout from Troop 75.

Cranford Boy Scout Troop 75 is one of the oldest Scout Troops in Union County. Founded in 1910, today it serves almost 60 active Scouts. Recent community activities include participation in the town-wide "Scouting for Food" drive to benefit Cranford Family Cares and participation with Cranford Troop 80 in the First Annual Eastman Plaza flag retirement ceremony by VFW Post #335. Plans for the winter season include hiking, camping, a ski trip and a visit to the Liberty Bell in Philadelphia. Troop 75 is a member of Patriots' Path Council and is associated with the Cranford United Methodist Church. For more information, please visit www.mytroop75.org

Any student who is a resident of Cranford and who will graduate from Cranford High School or any other area high school in 2016 is eligible for one of the five scholarships. Awards are based on the student's record of volunteer service and community involvement, regardless of financial need.

Steve Lieberman, Cranford Rotarian who is Chair of the Scholarship Committee, says "We always have a great group of students applying, and it's difficult to determine the best of the best based on diversity, quality, and commitment to community service."

Details on the scholarships are available at the Guidance Office at local high schools, or by writing to Rotary Club of Cranford Scholarships, PO Box 384, Cranford, NJ 07016, or by emailing loseskeys@aol.com.

Deadline for applications is April 1, 2016.

Members, known as Rotarians, provide humanitarian service, encourage high ethical standards in all vocations, and help build goodwill and peace in the world. The Rotary Club of Cranford was established in 1923 and provides diverse programs that support education, and other community services. ALL-DAY HOOP CLASSIC TO BENEFIT TEAM LEGRAND

On January 17, NJ Allstate Representative Jimmy Cheng and his associates hosted an all-day Hoop Classic at Kean University to benefit Team LeGrand of the Christopher & Dana Reeve

Foundation and raise funds for spinal cord injury research. The event is part of community program collaboration with the NJ-area Allstate agency, co-sponsor the Union County Interscholastic Athletic Conference (UCIAC), and Hoop Nation, a local basketball instruction and development program for young athletes in Highland Park, NJ.

High school basketball teams from Union County participated in the Hoop Classic including Colonia, Woodbridge, Union High School, Carteret, Rahway, Cranford, Roselle Catholic, Hillside, and St. Gil Bernard's to spotlight their athletic talents. During halftime of the 6 pm Gill St. Bernards vs. Roselle Catholic game, Eric LeGrand spoke about the past five years since he sustained his spinal cord injury and the importance of disability awareness.

"I want to thank everyone involved in this event, and for supporting my cause," Eric said in his speech. "I know we will get to that end zone one day where we will find cures for spinal cord injury, and everyone's support in the community is what brings us closer every day."

After his speech, Jimmy and his Allstate associates awarded a $5000 donation in support of Team LeGrand's mission to advance groundbreaking research and quality of life initiatives on behalf of the six million Americans living with paralysis.

About Team LeGrand: Team LeGrand of the Christopher & Dana Reeve Foundation launched in September 2013. In a matter of months, Team LeGrand rallied members nationwide with its mission: To help individuals living with spinal cord injury and their families by supporting quality of life initiatives and emerging therapies that will get us to the end zone -- cures for SCI.

About The Christopher & Dana Reeve Foundation: The Christopher & Dana Reeve Foundation is dedicated to curing spinal cord injury by funding innovative research, and improving the quality of life for people living with paralysis through grants, information and advocacy. CRANFORD'S FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH HONORED ITS SCOUTS

Submitted By: Keith Santulli, Committee Chair, Pack 103

On Sunday February 7th, the First Presbyterian Church of Cranford held Scout Sunday services. Scouts from Boy Scout Troop 80, Girl Scout Troop 40525 and Cub Scout Pack 103 attended in their class A uniforms.

The service opened with an honor guard led by the Scouts who presented the American flag and Troop colors, followed by the Pledge of Allegiance. Next the congregation joined in with the hymn "On My Honor," which is a song celebrating Scouting, written by a First Presbyterian congregant from early in the 20th Century. Scouts Kate Bracke and Kevin McCarthy did the readings before Reverend Chris Kile's sermon. The service ended with a rousing version of "This little light of mine, I'm gonna let it shine" led by Reverend Chris on the guitar.

Afterwards the Scouts and congregation met in the Thompson Youth Center for refreshments where the Scouts supported the "Souper Bowl Sunday" fundraiser for the Cranford-Elmora Soup Kitchen in Elizabeth. The First Presbyterian Church is the charter organization for Girl Scout Troop 40525, Boy Scout Troop 80 and Cub Scout Pack 103.
