ROBOWARRIORS HAVE IMPRESSIVE FINISH IN COMPETITION

Submitted by Dave Schlingloff

The WHRHS Robotics Team, the RoboWarriors, in their three-team alliance, placed second in the FIRST Robotics Mid-Atlantic Mt. Olive Event on March 5th and 6th. Individually, the team finished 17th out of 39 teams representing local New Jersey and Pennsylvania area high schools.

FIRST, which stands for "For Inspiration and Recognition of Science and Technology," is a not-for-profit charity organization based in Manchester New Hampshire founded in 1989 to inspire young people's interest and participation in science and technology. The FIRST Robotics Competition (FRC) is one of several programs run by FIRST. FRC, dubbed a "varsity sport for the mind," combines the excitement of sport with the rigors of science and technology. Under strict rules, limited resources, and time limits, teams of 25 students or more are challenged to raise funds, design a team "brand," hone teamwork skills, and build and program a robot to perform prescribed tasks against a field of competitors. It is as close to "real world" engineering as a student can get. Professional mentors volunteer their time and talents to guide each team.

The WHRHS Robotics Team 41, the RoboWarriors, had another outstanding performance on April 14th through the 16th at the Mid-Atlantic Regional Championship at Lehigh University, making it to the quarterfinal round. This excellent showing is a combination of their second place finish at the Mt. Olive District Event and first place at the Montgomery Event.

During the competition at Lehigh, Team 41 had a strong performance in their 12 qualifying matches with a very impressive 10 wins and 2 losses. Going into the playoff round, they were the 8th ranked team out of 60 at the competition. Being in the top 8 put them in a position to choose the other 2 teams that would form their 3-team alliance. They were, however, chosen by a higher ranked team in the top 8 and decided to accept that team's offer to join them. Their alliance was defeated in the quarterfinals in 2 tough matches. The RoboWarriors did end the competition on a high note when they learned that their overall performance gave them a ranking of 16th.

GIRLS ON THE RUN INTRODUCED TO WOODLAND SCHOOL

By Edir Coronado

The Girls On The Run (GOTR) program was introduced to Woodland school in Warren, NJ this year. GOTR is a national 501(c)3 non-profit organization, which focuses on developing young girl's confidence using positive reinforcement, strong role models, and responsive games. The 10-12 week curriculum creatively uses running as a vehicle to support what the girls have learned.

Coach Yee Jao and Coach Laura Kerr manage the program at Woodland school. The coaches partner up with volunteers like Karen Madura and Eva Palumbl to go over the day's curriculum, conduct a light warm-up, and run laps around the school yard. As the girls complete a lap the coaches hand out, what they call, a lap band.

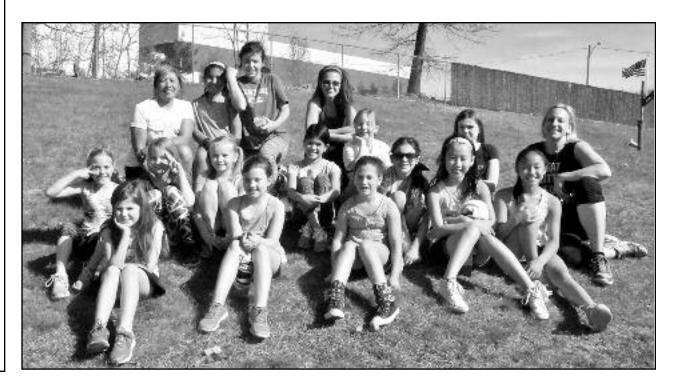

Coach Jao explained the symbolic nature of the lap band, "the girls are throwing away their negative cords and creating a Girls On The Run cord," she added, "everything having to do with Girls On The Run is positive."

At the end of the program the girls are encouraged to run in a celebratory 5k, Coach Kerr explained the girls are not expected or forced to participate. The girls are taught that it does not matter whether they run or walk, just as Coach Yee Jao and Coach Laura Kerr manage long as they keep moving. Currently, all of the e program at Woodland school. The coaches girls are ecstatic about the upcoming run.

While the GOTR program has received immense support from parents, school officials, and participants, Coach Jao explained, there is still a need for more. Community members can donate healthy snacks or volunteer during the GOTR practice sessions, held on Tuesdays and Fridays between 3:20 p.m. and 4:35 p.m.

Community members are welcomed to register as a participant, volunteer, and/or donate for the 5k run, held on June 19th, 2016 at 9:30 a.m in Downtown Somerville, NJ. For information on how to get involved with the practice sessions contact Coach Yee Jao at 908-391-7630. To register for the 5k visit: www.gotrcnj.org

Do you suffer from Knee Pain?

ADULT STEM CELL THERAPY may be the answer.

What is Adult Stem Cell Therapy?

Performance Rehabilitation & Integrated Medicine is a pioneer in the field of Adult Stem Cell Therapy. This emerging field of medicine uses a simple, in-office, medical procedure to obtain your own stem cells (not the controversial embryonic cells) and Platelet Rich Plasma (PRP) to rejuvenate and repair painful damaged joints, cartilage, tendons and ligaments. Adult Stem Cell / PRP Therapy is a proven, safe, non-surgical treatment for pain that can return you back to an active lifestyle again, NATURALLYII

You may be a candidate if:

- · Your knee is "bone on bone" and you are considering knee replacement surgery.
- · You have a meniscus tear.
- You have been diagnosed with arthritis.
- You have tried joint injections and/or physical therapy and still have pain.
- You have had surgery and still have pain.

What makes Performance Rehabilitation & Integrated Medicine's approach so different?

Since 2011, Dr. Joseph Mejia of PR&IM has pioneered the use of adult stem cell therapy for the treatment of arthritis and many other orthopedic conditions. We were the first clinic in New Jersey to combine Adult Stem Cell Therapy, Platelet Rich Plasma Therapy (PRP) and Rehabilitation for the comprehensive treatment of joint pain.

Here is an example of what our patients have to say ...

I had suffered with chronic pain for 15 months that kept me from enjoying my normal activities. I'd seen numerous physicians and none of them were able to alleviate the pain.

The Adult Stem Cell Therapy treatments at Performance Rehabilitation & Integrated Medicine changed all of that. I am finally able to return to doing the things that I love: boxing, working out, skiing, spending time with my son and just being active.

I am very happy with the quality of care that I received at PR&IM and with the positive results that I have achieved. - David E. Cassidy, Esq., Bridgewater, NJ

JOIN CENTO AMICI IN SUPPORT OF EDUCATION

Cento Amici (100 Friends) is a communitybased, member organization dedicated to providing need-based scholarship assistance to qualified students in New Jersey. Their mission is to enhance the educational opportunities for those who need it most and who are most underserved by existing need-based programs.

Founded in 1989, Cento Amici (originally known as Trenta Amici) first supported a range of charitable organizations. As membership grew over the years, the group narrowed its focus to the support of education, where our members believe they can have a significant impact.

As a recognized non-profit organization, Cento Amici currently supports scholarships at Montclair State University, St. Anthony High School, St. Peter's Prep, Rutgers New Jersey Medical School, and Union County College.

Cento Amici has also made special contributions to Roselle Catholic High School, Raritan Valley Community College, to a scholarship fund established for the children of police officers and firefighters killed on 9/11, and to the Delbarton School for the establishment of an inner-city scholarship fund.

On April 4, 2016 Cento Amici held their 28th Annual Spring Scholarship Recipient Dinner at Alfie's Ristorante in Warren, NJ. Morning radio host and former Saturday Night Live star Joe Piscopo and CNN Chief Business Correspondent and author Christine Romans welcomed the 2015-16 scholarship recipients.

WHRHS NEWS 2016 NATIONAL MERIT AND PRESIDENTIAL SCHOLARS

Six seniors named National Merit Finalists at Watchung Hills Regional High School; two students nominated as U.S. Presidential Scholars

Six seniors at Watchung Hills Regional High School (WHRHS) have been named National Merit Finalists. They are: Claire Yuxuan Chen, Emily K. Kim, Kunwoo Park, Eric Zhu and Henry Zhu, all of Warren Township, and Isis M. Zhang of Stirling.

In addition, two of the seniors have been nominated also as U.S. Presidential Scholars, Claire Yuxuan Chen and Isis M. Zhang.

National Merit

The National Merit Program named some 1,600 National Merit semifinalists across the country in September, and typically, about 90 percent of the semifinalists go on to be selected as finalists. All six semifinalists at WHRHS have now been named finalists.

The semifinalists qualified as a result of scores in the PSAT NMSQT (Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test), taken during the fall of junior year. In addition, other factors are considered, such as classroom work as verified by an official school transcript, and SAT (Scholastic Aptitude Test) scores.

The selection of some 7,400 National Merit Scholarship winners, will take place this spring. Scholarship offers will be mailed to winners at their home address and confidential notification will be sent to their principals.

U.S. Presidential Scholars

The U.S. Presidential Scholars Program, which was started by Executive Order of President Lyndon B. Johnson in 1964, to recognize some of the nation's most distinguished graduating seniors. It was expanded in 1979 by President Jimmy Carter to recognize students who demonstrate exceptional talent in the visual, creative and performing arts. It was extended further in 2015 by President Barack Obama to recognize students who demonstrate ability and accomplishment in career and technical education fields.

Each year up to 161 are named U.S. Presidential Scholars, out of some 4,000 who are nominated. The majority of the scholars are selected on the basis of broad academic achievement. About 20 students are selected on the basis of their academic and artistic scholarship in the visual arts, the performing arts, or creative writing. Beginning this year, about another 10 students will be chosen on the basis of their ability and accomplishment in career and technical education fields.

WATCHUNG HILLS REGIONAL HIGH SCHOOL 2016 TEACHER OF THE YEAR

History teacher Jamie Lott-Jones has been selected by a committee of her peers as the 2016 Teacher of the Year. Lott-Jones has been on the faculty at Watchung Hills Regional High School (WHRHS) for 18 years, and before that completed her student teaching assignment there.

The plaque presented to Lott-Jones by Principal George Alexis included the words, "for encouraging students to think independently, for promoting a culture of acceptance, and for inspiring students to embrace empathy, kindness, and responsibility."

"Mrs. Lott-Jones is highly respected by both her colleagues and her students," said Superintendent Elizabeth Jewett. "Her compassion for her students and her love of learning are qualities for the entire Watchung Hills learning community to aspire to and emulate."

Lott-Jones said her selection, which was announced at a meeting of faculty on Thursday, April 14, came as a complete surprise.

She said "When Principal Alexis asked me if I wanted to say anything, I said No, because I am not sure I could even state my full name, I am so surprised."

In a letter of thanks to her fellow teachers the following Monday, Lott-Jones wrote, "What an honor it is to be selected as teacher of the year. I feel an even greater sense of pride because I was picked by you to represent our amazing staff. I was totally shocked."

She continued, "I have had the privilege of teaching at WHRHS for a span of 18 years, and I know, without a doubt, that I work with the very best team of educators and professionals in the state. I have always felt that my co-workers were my extended family, and as such, you advise me, encourage me, and even tease me.

Lott-Jones expressed that "Teaching takes a lot of exhausting work," but is re-invigorated when she receives encouragement from her fellow teachers.

Lott-Jones was born in South Dakota, and when very young, lived in North Dakota with her parents, a public health doctor and a social worker, who were providing services to Native American residents. They returned to New Jersey, and lived in Plainfield from ages 3 to 8.

She graduated from The Pingry School in Bernards Township and received her bachelor's degree from Dickinson College in Carlyle, Pa.

During her junior year at Dickinson, Lott-Jones completed a semester establishing a pre-school on the Cheyenne River-Sioux Reservation in South Dakota: the pre-school was funded through a government grant.

"It is still open," Lott Jones said, with pride. "It is called, Oti Waste', which in the language of the Sioux, called Lakota, means 'Good House."

Lott-Jones earned her master's degree in education from Rutgers University and has taken additional classes at Kean University. She has also completed a one semester fellowship at Columbia University, New York City, in Genocide Studies.

This year, Lott-Jones is on the executive committee of the Facing History & Ourselves NJ Advisory Board, a group of History teachers and administrators from WHRHS and also schools in West New York, Hoboken, Jersey City, Montclair, Sough Orange, Maplewood, and Bloomfield. The board meets four times a year to discuss and develop best practices for teachers of history trying to encourage students to participate in productive civic engagement experiences.

"We work together to try to find creative ways to explore and support "upstanding" values in the curriculum," she said.

She also attended a professional development workshop on "Closing the Opportunity Gap," with noted educator and author Dr. Richard Milner of the University of Pittsburgh.

Lott-Jones co-authored a paper to be published in the scholarly journal of Kappa Delta Pi with fellow History teacher Mary Sok, and former WHRHS Superintendent Frances Stromsland. It is titled, "The Power of One – Creating the New Culture of Upstanders."

With Sok, she also prepared and led a seminar last summer for new teachers, titled "Teaching Social Justice," at Montclair State University Network for Educational Renewal (MSUNER). They will likely repeat the presentation for a group of new teachers this summer.

Last Fall, students in Lott-Jones' World History Honors classes participated in StoryCorps's Great Thanksgiving Listen. This National Public Radio (NPR) "Oral History Project," records interviews and personal remembrances on various types of Americana and the American experience for archiving in the Library of Congress.

Lott-Jones was among the teachers and students who developed the WHRHS antibullying initiative, "White Out." This year, the White Out initiative will visit and engage students at Warren Middle School on Friday, May 13. Last year, the initiative visited and engaged students at Watchung's Valley View Middle School. In years past, the "White Out" initiative students have made presentations at municipal meetings to the Township Committees of Warren, Long hill, Green Brook, and Borough Council of Watchung.

Among the other innovative teaching techniques she has had her students do are: read "White Man's Burden," the classic 1899 poem by Rudyard Kipling and write an answering poem from the viewpoint of the Indian. As well as create a Sikh action plan, including a mission statement, goals, and activities to educate people on the Sikh culture, so they are not labeled as Muslim terrorists.

According to one of her fellow History teachers, many students have said that Lott-Jones' World History Classes have been among their more challenging during their school experience at WHRHS, but also their favorite.

She and her husband, Mike Jones, have two children, Luke, 13, and Jake, 10.

BIOGRAPHY DAY AT CENTRAL SCHOOL

by Mary Ann McGann

Benjamin Franklin, Queen Elizabeth II, Cleopatra and a couple of Albert Einsteins, Babe Ruths and Jane Goodalls were among the notable guests at Central School's time-honored Biography Day.

Each second grade student chose an appropriate reading level biography, creating a report with at least 8 important events or facts and a drawing of the selected famous person. The students were instructed to write the report as if they were the prominent figure, using the firstperson "I" instead of the person's name.

As part of a tradition that has taken place at Central for more than a decade, 2nd graders came dressed as the subject of their biography, presenting their report as classmates tried to guess – some successfully, others not so – just who was standing before them.

POEM IN YOUR POCKET DAY AT MT. HOREB

April 21 was "National Poem in Your Pocket Day" and Mt. Horeb students had poems at the ready (in an adhesive plastic pocket, if not their own) to share with schoolmates.

Encouraged nationally by the American Academy of Poets and organized at Mt. Horeb School by librarian Chris Burkhardt, the idea behind "Poem in Your Pocket Day" is to inspire children and adults alike to "channel their inner bard," says poet.org.

Students were encouraged to choose a poem that inspires them (or just one that they like), carry it around in their pocket, and read it to friends, teachers and family. Older grades met with younger "buddies" to explore and share this aesthetic and rhythmic form of literature. "When I asked a kindergartner what a poem was, she said

'it's kind of like a song, but it's really, really slow," said Burkhardt.

Principal Scott Cook had his own pocket poem handy, given to him by several students and appropriately entitled "Mr. Cook."

Cook, an accomplished guitarist and songwriter who sings in a band in his off time, also shared with fourth and fifth graders his childhood frustrations with writing poetry, which changed when he discovered music. Poetry and song lyrics go hand-in-hand, he told the gathering. "Because I loved music and I wanted to write songs, I had to figure out how to write poetry." Oh, and should you be wondering about that poem in Mr. Cook's pocket, it is the work of poet Douglas Florian and the first stanza reads: "Mr. Cook's in love with books. He piles them wall-to-wall. On breezy days, they gently sway, and with a sneeze they fall." Nearby, at Angelo L. Tomaso School, librarian Susan Jackson and her second graders have been working with poetry as well, including haiku and acrostic poems (where certain letters in a line spell a word or phrase).

"I didn't do "Poem in Your Pocket" as such," Jackson says. But had she, Jackson says she would have chosen the following fun verse by Ogden Nash for her pocket poem.

Behold the hippopotamus We laugh at how he looks to us And yet, in moments dank and grim I wonder how we look to him.

Peace, peace, thou hippopotamus We really look all right to us As you no doubt delight the eye Of other hippopotami!

SPRING HATCHES AT CENTRAL SCHOOL

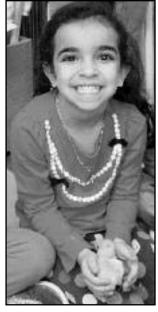

by Mary Ann McGann

Kindergartners at Central School were all aflutter (literally) as they welcomed to their classrooms that time-honored harbinger of spring... soft, yellow chicks.

For about a week, the students of Andrea McGuire and Christina DeShields carefully tended to two dozen fertilized eggs, learning about a chick's lifecycle while rotating the eggs and monitoring temperature and humidity in the incubator.

The eggs were delivered on April 5 by Quiver Farm Projects of Pennsburg, Pennsylvania as part of an educational outreach program. Farmer Ed Androwick provided a short tutorial on how first to care for the eggs and later, the chicks. On hand for this initial presentation were rooster Max and Ruby, a speckled hen.

The fuzzy barnyard babies began pecking their way out of their shells on April 11 and 12. The needless-to-say delighted kindergartners spent the week making sure the chicks were fed, watered and warm, before sending them home to Quiver Farm.
