CHS TO PRESENT FALL PRODUCTION: NOISES OFF

November 18 and 19th at 7:30 PM the Cranford High School Performing Arts Department invites the public to come enjoy a good hearty laugh with the funniest farce ever written. Noises Off by Michael Frayn, is a roller coaster, side-splitting look at theatre - inside and out - as a hapless troupe of actors attempt to mount the dreadful comedy Nothing On. Door slamming, missed cues, and romantic intrigue will have you roaring with laughter as the casts' collective sanity slowly unravels. Yet, the show must go on; despite the catastrophe being played out on stage and the vicious antics among the actors backstage. All-the-while, an ill-fated plate of sardines mysteriously appears and disappears.

Cast in the CHS Fall production are: Niamh O'Donovan as Dotty, Andrew Gordon as Lloyd, Brenden Scalea as Garry, Lili Rebelo as Brooke, Maggie Manhardt as Belinda, Noah Wohlsen as Frederick, Haley Baranowski as Poppy, Kelly McMahon as Kim and Charlie Bernstein as Selsdon. Student stage managers are: Samantha Dalli, Mikayla Herz and Garrett Kennedy. The production is under the direction of Michelle Massa.

CHS Fall Production: Noises Off November 18 and 19 7:30 PM, Senior Citizens invited to dress rehearsal November 17 at 7:30 PM.

Tickets:$10.00 and available at chs.booktix.com or at the door. Student rush tickets will be available at the door for $5.00. Ticket questions; please contact Ginger Burd burdvirg@cranfordschools.org

CRANFORD TROOP 75 VISITS WASHINGTON DC

Article by Bob Lopez, Assistant Scoutmaster Troop 75

Cranford's Troop 75 spent a busy weekend in Washington DC. From early in the morning to late at night, the Scouts were on the move in our Nation's Capital.

After observing the hourly Changing of the Guard at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, the Scouts participated in a wreath-laying ceremony at the Tomb. Wanting to show their respect and honor to those who served and gave the ultimate sacrifice to defend our nation, Troop 75 invited Cranford VFW Post 335 to attend. Showing enthusiasm and gratitude for the invitation, the Post generously provided a wreath with the phrase: "In Honor of Those Who Gave Their Lives so that We May Live Free." Led by the Sergeant of the Tomb Guard, VFW Post 335 Commander Jay Emmons Boxwell and Senior Vice Commander James Silkensen and Troop 75 Eagle Scout Timothy Joyce and Assistant Senior Patrol Leader Joseph Gannon performed an exemplary job representing Cranford's veterans and the Boy Scouts of America, respectively.

On a very tight schedule, the Scouts traveled afterward to Union Station for lunch. A short, pleasant walk in the Washington sunshine took them to the Capital Building for a guided tour, courtesy of Congressman Leonard Lance's office. The Capital Tour Staff was extremely happy to see the smartly uniformed Scouts, treating them with respect and honor. The Scouts enjoyed a stirring video about the history and significance of the Capital Building, a symbol bringing the People of this great Nation together, followed by a walk through the Crypt, the Rotunda, the National Statuary Hall and the Old Senate ("Whispering Gallery") Chamber. Each location was replete with statues representing significant people from each of the 50 States and their contributions to the growth of our Nation. An extremely knowledgeable Capital Tour Guide provided little-known facts and deftly fielded questions from the Scouts, weaving insights into his answers that helped everyone appreciate how our Country came to be.

After dinner at Union Station's Shake Shack, the Scouts spent a short time playing Frisbee in an adjacent park before starting a bus tour of the monuments. Under a bright, full October moon, with stops at the Martin Luther King, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, Marine Corp (Iwo Jima) and Lincoln Memorials, the Scouts received an in-person appreciation of the hard-won freedoms that we have today.

The "Monuments by Moonlight" tour bus driver "Sooner Steve" kindly drove the Troop back cross-town to their parking spot while giving a private tour of additional sites.

Troop 75 Scouts were courteous and respectful throughout the tour and received many unsolicited positive and encouraging compliments from every member of the Washington DC public, including Veteran, military, National Park and Capital Staff personnel.

Boy Scout Troop 75 meets at the Cranford United Methodist Church every Thursday evening from 730pm-900pm while school is in session. On Saturday, November 5th, Troop 75 invites Cranford Cub Scout Pack Arrow of Light Scouts (Senior Webelos) to attend an introductory hike to the Long Pond Iron Works. A Harriman State Park backpacking hike is planned for November 18-20th.

For details on these events, please check out the Troop Calendar at the Troop website: mytroop75.org/Home\_Page.php If your son likes camping and the outdoors, the Boy Scouts of America and Troop 75 is the place for him to be!

ALIMONY STATUTE AMENDMENTS FROM 2014 CAN BE APPLIED TO DIVORCES FINALIZED YEARS EARLIER

By: James McGlew II, Esq.

Today's current economic reality is one of great uncertainty, especially when it comes to employment. Employees who could count on receiving an annual cost of living adjustment or performance bonus no longer have that luxury, nor the security that their years of experience and training will translate into an equal or higher-paying position should they lose their job. These realities of employment cut across the entire New Jersey labor market, yet they have an even deeper impact when faced by divorced individuals with existing alimony obligations.

Alimony, which is sometimes referred to as spousal support or maintenance, is defined as the obligation upon one spouse to provide financial support to his or her spouse before or after marital separation or divorce. In 2014 the New Jersey Legislature passed, and the Governor signed, an alimony reform bill which "modernized" how alimony awards are to be calculated. One change in the new alimony statute deals with how judges can interpret cases where the payor of alimony attempts to lower or all together eliminate their alimony obligations due to job loss.

Recently, a Superior Court judge in New Jersey rendered a decision effecting thousands of divorced spouses in our state. The judge's ruling confirmed for the first time that the 2014 alimony overhaul would not just apply to individuals divorced since the revisions were enacted two years ago, but to all divorced individuals currently paying or receiving alimony.

In Mills v. Mills the Court reviewed a petition made by the supporting spouse (the payor of alimony) to reduce their alimony obligation due to the loss of long-term employment and the acceptance of a new position at a considerably lower salary. The Court granted the petition to reduce the alimony obligation and held that under the 2014 amendments to the alimony statute, the family court has the authority to reduce alimony obligations when the supporting spouse loses their employment and has made reasonable attempts to find alternative employment. The interesting thing about the Court's decision is that the Mills were divorced in 2013, one year before the alimony revisions were signed into law.

The Court in Mills found that judges have the authority to apply both the spirit and terms of the 2014 amendments to the alimony statute, even when the individuals had a final divorce order entered before 2014, so long as there is no written agreement applying a different standard in place, and the issue has not been litigated and already adjudicated by the Court. In so doing, the Court determined who could avail themselves of the remedies written into the new statutes. The Judge in Mills acknowledged that changes often occur in the employment status of individuals after they are divorced. This has become a more common occurrence over the past several years with the economic downturn and static recovery which has affected tens of thousands of individuals. The Judge specifically referred to the "harsh present day reality" which exists for many people who have lost their jobs and may never regain their former earning level.

If any of these circumstances apply to you and you would like to discuss how the 2014 amendments to New Jersey's alimony statute may impact your alimony award or obligation, I invite you to contact my office. Lindabury's Family Law Group has decades of experience representing clients in negotiating, enforcing and amending alimony and other support obligations. We provide the full range of divorce and family law services and are easily accessible from our Westfield New Jersey office. Call today to schedule a consultation with James McGlew at (908) 233-6800.

ADVOCATES NEEDED FOR LOCAL FOSTER YOUTH

CASA of Union County is seeking Cranford residents to step up and be the voice for one of the nearly 600 Union County youth, ages 0-21, currently in foster care through no fault of their own.

Traditionally, the required 30-hour training is held over six weeks, with volunteers meeting several evenings each week. However, two new training options are now available, in response to prospective volunteers seeking more scheduling flexibility. A December training — which begins Monday, Dec. 5, 2016 — allows those home during the day to complete all training within five days from 9 am to 4 pm at the CASA offices; the January training — which begins Thursday, Jan.

12 — continues the traditional six-week format, but incorporates online learning at the volunteer's convenience, and fewer in-person sessions. Lunch or light dinner is provided. At the conclusion of training, a Superior Court judge swears in the new child advocates at the Union County Courthouse.

Trained CASAs are court-empowered to speak to foster parents, teachers, doctors, lawyers, therapists and more. CASAs visit the youth regularly and incorporate findings into a report for the judge. They attend quarterly court hearings, working to ensure a youth's time in care is as short as possible and their best interests remain the priority. Although not required, there is an additional need for male advocates and advocates who speak Spanish. Just who is a typical child referred to CASA of Union County? Meet 12-year-old Marissa:

When my mother was pregnant with me, she drank alcohol and used cocaine, and I was born with Fetal Alcohol Syndrome. Even though the state was working with my mom to help her get clean and be a better mom to me and my brother, she couldn't stay away from the drugs and alcohol. My older brother tried to take care of me, but he said it was too hard, and our house was so dirty and cluttered. A worker from the state came and took me, and put me into a foster home. That worker left and I have a new worker. When I met her, she said the plan was for me to go back with my mom as soon as she's better. I was so happy. But I just found out that now my mom is missing! I'm so worried and hope she's okay. Is she drinking again? Is she hurt? Every day I wonder what will happen to me and what's happened to her. I'm so scared. I don't see my brother anymore at all. My family is so broken and I feel all alone.

Cranford residents are encouraged to contact Rachel at (908) 527-7044 or rwhite@casaofunioncounty.org to RSVP for an information session below, or for more details on claiming a seat in the December or January class.

Evening information sessions are: Thursdays, Nov. 17 and Dec. 15 at the County Clerk Building, 300 North Avenue East, Westfield; morning sessions are 10 a.m. Fridays, Nov. 18 and Dec. 16 at CASA's offices, 1143-45 East Jersey Street, Second Floor, Elizabeth.

AMANDA BUSH EARNS GIRL SCOUT GOLD AWARD

Amanda Bush, now a freshman at Fordham University, completed her Girl Scout Gold Award this past summer. She focused this 80-hour project on raising awareness about pet therapy and its extensive benefits. Amanda was inspired by her own pet therapy dog, Jessie, who visits various facilities and cheers up the many people she greets.

For her project, Amanda joined Jessie on some of her pet therapy visits to nursing homes and healthcare facilities in order to witness and take part in the benefits of pet therapy firsthand. Additionally, Amanda made a brochure about these benefits and the simple steps for getting involved with pet therapy. She then went to various events for St. Hubert's Animal Welfare Center, an animal shelter based in Madison, NJ that has a pet therapy certification program, and handed out her brochures at the events. Amanda spoke with different people at these events, at the Springfield Holistic Wellness Center, and just to any interested people about her experience with pet therapy and its many benefits and instructions on how to get their pets involved. Finally, Amanda created a video that features pictures of her dog and includes a list of the benefits and the steps necessary for getting a pet certified.

Some of the most prominent benefits that a therapy dog can provide for people are decreasing anxiety, reducing loneliness, improving socialization and communication, motivating patients to participate in exercise and activities, improving self-esteem, reducing depression, assisting people in dealing with illness or loss, and being an overall source of touch and companionship.

If you are interested in getting your pet certified, you first need to make sure your pet is up to date on all vaccinations. Then, find a local animal shelter that offers pet therapy certification (St. Hubert's offers a pet therapy program). If offered by the shelter, your pet can complete an obedience training course before taking the evaluation. Your pet then needs to pass the quick evaluation test to become certified and begin working! Amanda encourages everyone to follow these steps to get their dogs or other pets certified for pet therapy today! And spread the word so more therapy animals can brighten the days of those who need it.

CRANFORD DAR RECEIVES AWARDS FROM NATIONAL & STATE SOCIETY

The Crane's Ford DAR received multiple awards from the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution and the New Jersey State DAR at the September 17th State DAR meeting. The local chapter was successful in several categories including "Level One Chapter Achievement Award for Outstanding Accomplishments", indicating the chapter ranks among the top 47 State DAR chapters. The award is based on cumulative points in meeting NSDAR objectives in American history, education, patriotism and volunteer veteran services.

Other national DAR awards include "Celebrate America!" recognition for "Serving its Community"; "Historic Preservation" for presenting a Historic Preservation Recognition Award to the Cranford individuals who worked on preserving the Cranford Murals and a "Conservation Award" for outstanding conservation project.

On the NJDAR state level, Crane's Ford was cited for "Outstanding Conservation" for presenting a conservation minute at all chapter meeting.

Locally, Cranford DAR presented monetary awards and certificates of excellence to three graduating seniors: The NSDAR "Good Citizen Award" to a student at both Cranford High School and Mother Seton High School and the NSDAR Excellence in American History Award at Cranford High School. The chapter also presented monetary awards, a medal and certificates of excellence to an outstanding JROTC cadet at Elizabeth High School, Linden High School, and Abraham Clark High School in Roselle.

The Daughters of the American Revolution is a volunteer service organization dedicated to historic preservation, education and patriotism. For membership in the DAR a woman must prove her lineal descent from a patriot of the American Revolution. DAR volunteers are always willing to provide guidance and assistance with your search for ancestors. The Crane's Ford chapter Registrar, Patty Campanelli can be reached by e-mail at patushkat@aol.com or the National DAR at dar.org for more information on membership.

THIRD UNION COUNTY DAY OF PRAYER DRAWS NEARLY 600

At a time when the nation is gripped by divisiveness and intolerance for those who differ from us is worn by many like a badge of courage, nearly 600 people from all walks of life came together for the Third Annual Union County Day of Prayer, held October 6 at The Parish Community of St. Helen in Westfield.

"Day of Prayer and Reflection: Honoring People of All Faith Communities" drew speakers and readers from the Christian, Jewish, Muslim, Hindu and Sikh faiths. They were joined by people of all races and nationalities, as well as more than 100 people with disabilities. The event featured prayers, meditations and songs.

The Annual Union County Day of Prayer is planned and orchestrated each year by the Union County Interfaith Coordinating Council, an organization comprising interfaith congregations and community-based nonprofits, including Community Access Unlimited (CAU). The council promotes inclusion of all people within the community and creates a clearing house of faith-based, nonprofit and government community services available to the public while bringing greater awareness of these services to the wider community, according to Sid Blanchard, CAU executive director.

"In these times when families are being rendered asunder, when communities are being torn apart, when someone who is different is being rejected, it is essential to come together," Blanchard said.

Rabbi Joel Abraham of the Temple Sholom in Scotch Plains said, "I think it's important to stand with people of other faiths whenever possible. Especially now when there is a force of division...we want to reach across the pew and see how we are more alike than different yet also celebrate the ways we are different."

Reverend Cynthia Cochran-Carney of the Willow Grove Presbyterian Church in Scotch Plains, said, "There are many misunderstandings in our country about different faith groups, many stereotypes. I want to promote the vision we are all called by God and need to respect each other."

The Venerable Klint Kaevalin from the Buddhist Dhammakaya Meditation Center in Fanwood, said, "It's nice when we can come together and share peace and have a true commonality that we want to have goodness in the world."

Dr. Mohammad Ali Chaudry of the Islamic Society of Basking Ridge said, "Interfaith cooperation is critical for not only the Muslim community but all communities. I've been talking about how to confront and counter bigotry. I will know I am making a difference when I see a Muslim say something hateful about another group and another Muslim stand up and say, 'That's not right.' When a Jew says something hateful and another Jew says, 'That's not right.' And a Christian and so on."

Chaudry encouraged everyone in attendance to sign a pledge to "stand up for the other" that reads: "While interacting with members of my own faith or ethnic community, or with others, if I hear hateful comments from anyone about members of any other community, I pledge to stand up for the other and challenge bigotry in any form." The pledge form is available online at www.standupfortheother.org.

"If you hear something hateful and bigoted, if you don't speak out they'll think you agree with them," Chaudry said. "If we can all take enough of a stand speaking out that that's not right, we can make a difference."

CAU is a statewide Elizabeth-based nonprofit providing support programs and services to adults with disabilities as well as youth served under the Department of Children and Families (DCF) to enable them to live independently in the community, providing supports in areas including housing, vocational skills and life-skills training, education, advocacy and recreation.

About Community Access Unlimited

Community Access Unlimited (CAU), celebrating its 37th year in 2016, supports people with special needs in achieving real lives in the community. CAU provides support and gives voice to adults and youth who traditionally have little support and no voice in society. CAU helps people with housing, life skills, employment, money management, socialization and civic activities. CAU also supports opportunities for advocacy through training in assertiveness, decision-making and civil right. CAU currently serves more than 6,000 individuals and families, with the number served growing each year. For more information about CAU and its services, contact us by phone at 908.354.3040, online at www.caunj.org or by mail at 80 West Grand Street, Elizabeth, NJ 07202.

PUBLIC IS INVITED TO MEETING OF COLLEGE WOMEN'S CLUB OF CRANFORD

College Women's Club of Cranford presents Linda Kenyon as Julia Child in a one woman show written by Clay Teunis and directed by Ed Starr at their November 14, 2016 meeting. The College Club meets at the Cranford Presbyterian Church on Springfield Avenue in Cranford. The meeting will begin at 7 PM with refreshments followed by the program about Julia Child.

The meeting is open to anyone interested in attending.

Julia Child was an American cook, author, and television personality who introduced French cuisine and cooking techniques to America. Her most famous works are the 1961 cookbook, "Mastering the Art of French Cooking" and her first television series, "The French Chef". She also starred in eleven other television series and authored eighteen other books. While her public face and voice became familiar to all of us, this play focuses on her private side, especially her relationship with her husband, Paul Child.

"Julia" tells about growing up in southern California, her adventures in World War II, learning to cook French cuisine, learning to teach and becoming a public figure. At the core was her love for Paul and his love for her. The play is a love story!

The playwright is Clay Teunis who is a sound engineer, audio books narrator, and writer. His other plays includes one about Harry Truman and Andy Warhol. Clay and his wife engineer and coach voice-over demos in their Hilllandale home.

Linda Kenyon who plays Julia Child also performs two other one-woman shows as Eleanor Roosevelt and Babe Didrikson Zaharias. She has acted with the Virginia Shakespeare Company, working at the Washington Stage Guild, Source Theatre, and at the Maryland Renaissance Festival. Linda's voice can be heard at the Postal Museum, the Civil Rights Museum in Memphis, and at the United States' Holocaust Memorial Museum. She also narrated a three part series, "The Last of the Czars", for Discovery.

Story Time Yoga

Sessions will be held on Monday mornings at 10:15

from October 31 through December 19.

The Cranford Public Library will be hosting “Story Time Yoga” featuring Lisa Ferraro. The program mixes poses, games, storytelling, art and music to teach children to release the sillies and find the calm. Children ages 2-5 will use props—like balls, scarves, pinwheels and pom-poms—to build strength, flexibility, and self-confidence through play. Yoga is a wonderful outlet: it encourages play while providing children with an opportunity to express themselves in a safe environment. It’s also an excellent way to learn healthy physical and mental habits that can be practiced for a lifetime!

Family M.E.S.S.

(Math, Engineering, and Science Saturday)

Saturday, November 12 at 10:30 a.m.

Family M.E.S.S. (Math, Engineering, and Science Saturday), the award winning early literacy program, is returning to the Cranford Public Library. Children ages 2-6 and their families will explore educational stations together, where they will be introduced to scientific concepts, solve problems, and have fun! This month we’ll be creating “fizzy colors,” building fine motor function with eyedroppers, and engineering letters using magnetic tiles.

Touch the Music presents The Nutcracker!

Saturday, November 12 at 2:30 p.m.

The amazing Ms. Claudia will be visiting us for a special all ages family program. She’ll share stories and music, and end with a chance for children to get hands on with some instruments! in the Cranford Community Center. Free tickets will be available in the Children's Department beginning October 29th.

CRANFORD HIGH SCHOOL PROJECT GRADUATION

Cranford High School Project Graduation fundraising is underway for the senior class of 2017. Their first and newest fundraiser is the Food Truck Music Festival which was held on Saturday, October 29th from 11 am – 5 pm at Nomahegan Park.

Participants enjoyed about 20 food trucks. There were face painters, activities for kids and crafters at the event. Entertainment was provided by The Brother John Brown Band, and the high school band Betty Sally and DJ Renee.

“Cranford High School Project Graduation is celebrating its 28th year of providing graduating seniors with a fun, safe, drug-and-alcohol free evening,” said Jackie Carr, Project Graduation Chair. “The CHS Project Graduation Food Truck and Music Festival was created as an exciting and delicious fundraiser to help underwrite the cost of the 2017 senior class Project Graduation night.”

“The senior class of 2017 is very grateful for the incredibly generous support received from our elected officials, corporate and community partners, family and friends,” Carr noted.

For more information about how to support Project Graduation, like their page on Facebook.com/Cranfordprojectgrad2017 or contact jackio325@aol.com.
