STUDENTS SHARE ACHIEVEMENTS AND GOALS WITH SUPERINTENDENT IN AFTERNOON VISIT

By: Rob Kinch

“Now I feel more connected to my town than ever before.” This was the sentiment expressed by Rahway High School senior and president of the French National Honor Society, Sephora Delice, after a visit with Rahway School Superintendent Dr. Patricia Camp.

On the afternoon of November 16, Dr. Camp welcomed into her office the presidents of nine different national honor societies in the high school to offer each of them her personal congratulations on their accomplishments and exceptional academic achievements. She was also genuinely eager to learn about the future plans and career aspirations embraced by each student. Listening with a caring ear (and offering sage advice when the moment was right), Dr. Camp clearly conveyed to her young guests her dedication to and support for all the students in her district.

This unique opportunity for superintendent and student to sit together at table and dialogue was the first of its kind in Rahway and definitely had a strong and very positive impact on Dr. Camp’s guests on many levels. Senior and president of the Italian National Honor Society, Anly Paulino, felt “privileged to have the chance to meet somebody in such a high position and to learn that she genuinely cared about MY success.” Nataly Quelopana, president of the Spanish National Honor Society, found it “an amazing experience to find out my superintendent is involved in and dedicated to our high school’s honor societies.”

As the conversation moved briskly from one topic to another, students also had the opportunity, as Luzangela Martinez states, “to get to know Dr. Camp as a person and to know she cares enough to get to know us, the students in her schools.” (Ms. Martinez has the honor of being the president of both the Science and the Math National Honor Societies.) Perhaps the most important effect the day’s visit had on the students was that they all shared in the feeling that their superintendent was very “real” and that they were being “watched over” during these very stressful high school years. “After all,” president of the National Honor Society Cedric Price points out, “she took the time to share her day with us!”

Dr. Camp is quick to aver that “these students are examples of what can be achieved with work and dedication by the students and their teachers; they are wonderful representatives of our schools, our community, and their generation!” In addition to finding her guests “thoughtful and well-spoken student leaders”, she was also impressed to learn that her students “are considering a range of careers including medicine, education, law, criminal justice, and engineering.”

The overall success of the afternoon can best be termed as a ‘learning experience’ for both student and superintendent alike; each discovered something new about the other through open, shared dialogue. President of the National Art Honor Society, Clarissa Miranda-Simmons summed it up quite well: “Cool how she gave kids our age acknowledgement for things we love doing.”

RAHWAY MEN OPPOSE BELVA LOCKWOOD IN 1884 PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION

By Al Shipley, City Historian and Rahway Library Research Consultant

In the fall of 1906, a newly arrived resident made the following observation on the day of an election, “Rahway is the worst place for politics I ever struck. For its size, I don’t believe there is any other town or city in the state that can begin to touch it. It is politics, politics, politics.” On more than several occasions throughout the city’s history, demonstrations for and against parties and individuals have overtly illustrated the passions of its politically astute citizens. One such occurrence took place during the presidential campaign of 1884 when the men of Rahway, in a unique and humorous way, expressed their opposition to a woman who was running for President of the United States.

Thirty-five years before women were granted the right to vote, a New Yorker named Belva Lockwood took the very bold step of accepting the nomination of the National Equal Rights Party, thus becoming the 1st woman to appear on an official ballot for president (back in 1872, Victoria Woodhull ran a limited campaign for the office). Ms. Lockwood was said to have stated, “I cannot vote, but I can be voted for.”

Ms. Lockwood, a teacher and lawyer, had spent most of her life working to improve the status of women while fighting against all forms of discrimination. Her positions were in line with those of the National Equal Rights Party which advocated equal rights for women, African-Americans, Native Americans, and immigrants.

From the outset of her campaign, she received little support and much criticism. Most newspapers were opposed to her candidacy and if they mentioned her campaign at all it was lampooned with both light-hearted and sarcastic humor. The Atlantic Constitution, for example, referred to her as “Old Lady Lockwood” and warned their gentlemen readers to be wary of the dangers of “Petticoat Rule.”

In a politically active city such as Rahway, it was almost a certainty that the men of the place would take an interest in the Lockwood candidacy and wage a protest, albeit in a humorous vein, to show their disapproval. A month before the election, a group of men met in a room above the post office and formed the Belva Lockwood Club. It was during that meeting that the club would make their plans to stage an unusual street parade as a way to poke fun at the candidate and to ridicule the very concept of a woman running for the highest office in the land. The parade would turn out to be an event that would be remembered in the city for many years to follow.

By Monday evening, October 20, news of the parade had spread and the city was alive with people, not only from Rahway, but also from adjacent cities and towns. At an appointed signal, approximately 70 men began their march through the streets, each one outlandishly attired in Mother Hubbard dresses, complete with bonnets, parasols, and striped stockings. A good natured, rotund member of the club who represented Ms. Lockwood was carried along the route in a horse drawn carriage as her attending footmen playfully regarded her with the obeisance reserved for royalty. When the “ladies” reached the home of one of their leaders, the procession halted and satirical letters were read that were supposedly sent in by Ms. Lockwood, her running mate, her Republican opponent, and the Democratic nominee, Grover Cleveland. As the bogus letters were read, a loud and hearty cheer resounded. A local paper reported that, “The line of march was a long one and the procession created considerable amusement for the many citizens who lined the streets.”

A week after the parade in Rahway, the club was invited to Elizabeth to march down Broad Street. That city greeted the marchers with music played by a brass band, the popping of Roman candles, and the glare of red lights emanating from lanterns carried by many of the spectators. A great crowd of people witnessed the parade which was followed by a reception at the Armory.

In the election itself, Ms. Lockwood received only 4,149 votes, all coming from the six states which allowed her name to appear on their ballots.

U.S. ARMED FORCES VETERANS CELEBRATED

During this time, U.S. Veterans armed forces are being celebrated by the help of Shirley McClary. She has a passion for others, particular her fellow residents at the Golden Age Towers in Rahway. McClary felt that her resident Veterans should be engaged in a celebration to honor them. She also invited those who served the Golden Age Towers for the resident safety and protection. In addition, the Rahway Police Department and the Rahway Fire Department were invited.

Gifts were donated by the residents and by the Golden Age Towers management. McClary is always working with residents to get them involved with activities. On the weekends, she has permission to use the Community Room where she has transformed it into an activity room. McClary is already preparing the activities downstairs before the residents wake up. She sets up 12 game tables like Backgammon; Pokeno Checkers; 500 and Pitty Pat card games and puzzles to drawing. There are even two tables: "Conversation Only; and "Do Not Bother". All in fun...McClary's motto is "get involved."

GARDEN CLUB PUTS ARTS PARK TO SLEEP FOR THE WINTER

Members of the Rahway Garden Club have been helping our town to maintain the little postage-stamp sized park known as Arts Park located at the corner of Irving Street and Central Ave. "The Department of Public Works takes care of the operation of the park's fountain and lighting and the heavy cleaning and our Garden Club oversees seasonal plantings, mulching, pruning and fertilizing as well as providing decorating in the holiday season" noted Garden Club President James Keane.

The Garden Club is a volunteer group whose evening monthly meetings are held at the Rahway Library, free and open to the public. No gardening is experience required! More info can be obtained by calling 732-259-8642.

WREATHS ACROSS AMERICA DAY DECEMBER 17, 2016

Each December on National Wreaths Across America Day, active duty service personal, veterans and thousands of volunteers gather at Arlington National Cemetery, as well as over 1100 additional locations in all 50 U.S. states, at sea, and abroad.

Their mission to Remember, Honor and Teach is carried out by coordinating wreath-laying ceremonies at every grave while reciting the name on the grave stone out loud.

You can watch a video of this ceremony or get more information on the internet: Wreaths Across America.org

AMARYLLIS 'Hippeastrum Amaryllidaceae'
Because of its willingness to bloom during the winter months, 'Amaryllis' has become very popular holiday gift. Amaryllis are bulbous plants which produce large flowers in red, pink, white. Nowadays a wider range of colors and combinations are available. Usually sold as a dormant bulb or with the stem emerging, you can expect a spectacular display when it comes into bloom. Flowers last two or three weeks.

Amaryllis need bright light with some direct sunlight throughout the active growing season. Not enough light will produce a weak stem or perhaps no flower at all.

A temperature of 65

(above) No matter which color amaryllis you choose, you will enjoy a spectacular display for three weeks.

(above) President of The Rahway Garden Club, James Keane has been researching and answering garden questions since 1995.

Visit 'Keane Gardener' blog at:

if recommended during bloom to make the flower last.

Water bulbs sparingly until growth begins then more often. Let the top of the soil dry between watering. Overwater can cause the bulb to rot.

When the flowers fade the bulb will produce broad leaves which help it to regenerate over the summer.

Amaryllis are easy to overwinter and bring back to bloom if you can supply the proper conditions. Once the leaves have formed feed plants twice a month with a basic plant fertilizer. In October cut back on watering so the soil dries out. After the leaves turn yellow cut them off and store your bulbs in a dark dry space around 50 degrees for the winter. A basement or connected garage are perfect spots for this.

Amazingly, in spring the new shoots will appear at the top of your bulb. Water lightly at first and move it into its spring spot when growth become more robust. Before you know it you will have started the entire process again.

Enjoy gardening all year long,

James

FRANKLIN SCHOOL HONORS OUR VETERANS

Recently, Franklin Elementary School in Rahway came together to show some love and appreciation to our veterans. The project all began when members of the school's Blue and Gold Club sent a letter to all of the teachers at the school and asked them to have their students write a letter to a veteran.

All of the grades from kindergarten to grade 6 wrote letters. It was great to see the school come together. Some of the letters will be brought to the Veterans Memorial Home in Menlo Park, NJ to be distributed on Veterans Day. The rest of the letters were placed in goody bags that the Blue and Gold Club members put together. The goody bags are filled with candy. They will be brought to the Rahway VFW and Atria Assisted Living Community in Cranford and were distributed on Veterans Day. The children hope that the letters and goody bags put a smile on the veteran's faces.

Franklin School's Blue and Gold Club is a school based club made up of students that volunteer their time throughout the year to help with different community service activities. The club is overseen by the school's nurse, Mrs. Barbara Maher and Ms. Kym Adams. They do a great job and we're proud of these young men and women. Keep up the great work kids!

HEALING LOSS OF ANY KIND AND DEALING WITH THE HOLIDAYS

The First Presbyterian Church of Cranford, 11 Springfield Ave., will hold their eight week seminar - "Journey to Wholeness- Healing the Grieving Heart" on Sundays evenings from Jan. 8- Feb 26, 2017.

Patti Williams, R.N., and certified pastoral bereavement counselor, and Virginia Waters, PhD. Psychologist, will lead the sessions from 6:30-8:30 p.m. in the Thompson Youth Center of the church. Patti and Virginia have offered this seminar for 17 years now, and have helped over 2500 people experience healing, find a new purpose for their lives, and feel joy once again. This is an experience like no other.

The sessions include learning about the stages of grief and understanding the tasks of the grieving process, coping strategies, how to take care of yourself and why this is so important, the changes, challenges and choices that occur, creating cherishable memories, coping with holidays and anniversaries, and dealing with feelings of loneliness and being disconnected spiritually. A special candle light ceremony is held to remember those we have lost, which includes walking the labyrinth and a time of fellowship.

Both of the leaders and all of the facilitators have experienced loss within their lives and share from "the inside out". It does not matter if your loss is divorce, death or job loss; loss is loss- it must be grieved. It does not matter how long ago you experienced loss. Bring family members and friends. All faiths are welcome. To register for this life changing event, please call 908-709-1341. No fee is charged. A special teen group facilitator has been added to help teens with loss as well.

The seminar is dedicated to Patti's late husband, the Rev. Dr. Bruce D. Williams who had a vision for the seminar 17 yrs ago, wanting to help others deal with their pain and suffering during their time of loss.

MOTHER SETON DONATES TO RWJ HOSPITAL AT RAHWAY

This fall, Mother Seton Regional High School was asked by Robert Wood Johnson University Hospital at Rahway to partner with them in a project designed to help patients with Alzheimers disease or early onset dementia. The hospital staff was in need of puzzles, crayons, coloring books and cards to help stimulate the patients who were admitted for a separate medical issue. The Mother Seton community collected six cartons of these materials that will now be used to focus and relax the patients and help keep them alert during their hospital stay. The hospital items were collected in conjunction with Mother Seton's Spirit Week.

Mrs. Corinne Wnek, Director of Guidance, and coordinator of the project shared this thought; "When our girls heard about this project, they and their families were eager to participate. This quality of service is a hallmark of the Mother Seton student."

In addition, the students from Mother Seton participated in the hospital's promotion of Sepsis Awareness by organizing a 'Red Ribbon Campaign' for the event. Brittany Casares, Health and Physical Education teacher helped Corinne Wnek to coordinate the student's efforts as they produced over a hundred ribbons for the occasion.
