ABOUT SALEM ROADHOUSE CAFÉ

Shh! The Roadhouse may be the best-kept secret in Northern New Jersey — the area's best jazz, rock, and even the occasional folkie in an intimate coffeehouse venue. The Roadhouse only opens to the public on the second Saturday evening of the month. It's where the area's musicians go to hear other musicians, and you might find yourself sitting next to a famous jazz drummer or a vocalist from Australia. You never know.

Musicians love the audience that takes the time to find the Roadhouse, and when musicians love their audience, they play their hearts out. Why does it take time to find the Roadhouse? We've cleverly hidden it in a church basement, where audience and musicians are within touching distance of each other. The acoustics are great.

The Roadhouse serves real coffee and tea — it's a coffeehouse, not a bar, after all. Hot and cold snacks and desserts are included in the admission.

There's art, too, because art and music go together. You can sip your coffee while perusing original works available for purchase at the Roadhouse Fine Arts Gallery. Works change with each opening.

As a fun, creative, community outreach mission of the church, show proceeds always benefit local NJ charities. Admission includes the show, snacks, beverages and desserts, plus the art gallery.

Union 34TV records the shows for broadcast — so check out past shows on cable.

See the Roadhouse on Union TV Channel 34's "Union After Dark" nightly music series.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY TO HOST AUTHOR

Dr. Betty Livingston Adams will present “Black Women's Christian Activism: Seeking Social Justice in a Northern Suburb” at 2 pm on Sunday, March 19, at Connecticut Farms Presbyterian Church, 888 Stuyvesant Avenue, Union. The event will be hosted by the Union Township Historical Society. This is a free event and is opened to the public. No registration is required.

Dr. Adams’ talk will be based on her book of the same title. One of the women featured in the book is Violet Johnson, a domestic servant, who moved to Summit, in 1897. She was one of less than 100 black residents in a town of 6,000. Summit was then a liberal Protestant community, yet observed some race and class barriers. But Violet didn’t accept the status quo. She established Fountain Baptist Church in 1898—“a seemingly moderate act” that affected more than religious services. Miss Johnson challenged thinking on gender and race and worked for an equal place for African Americans in the U.S. She was only one of many working-class activists integral to the birth of the civil rights movement.

Dr. Adams said Miss Johnson and her colleagues used their religious convictions to work for social change and helped turn New Jersey’s women’s suffrage movement into a “multiracial, cross-class movement” and started a statewide women’s Republican club.

Dr. Adams holds a Ph.D. in American Studies from Yale University and a Master of Divinity degree from Drew University. She researched 19th-and 20th-century African American/American religious and social history from gender, race, and class perspectives. She received a post-doctoral fellowship at Rutgers University and a Ford Foundation Doctoral Fellowship. Dr. Adams was a Global Scholar at the Rutgers Institute for Research on Women and a Fellow at the Rutgers Center for Historical Analysis. She serves as an Associate Minister and on the Board of Drew University’s Theological School Alumni Association.

LITTLE RED HATS WARM HEARTS IN A BIG WAY AT TRINITAS

Trinitas Regional Medical Center is joining the American Heart Association's Little Hats, Big Hearts program to raise awareness of family heart health and congenital heart defects, the most common type of birth defect in the country. The campaign coincides with Congenital Heart Defect Awareness Week in February, and aims to empower new moms to take charge of their own wellbeing while starting a healthy lifestyle for the entire family.

As part of the Little Hats, Big Hearts program, babies born at Trinitas during the week of February 7 received a red knitted or crocheted hat, and a kit full of heart-healthy information for mom and baby. The kit includes tips on raising healthy children, heart-healthy workouts that can be done at home, recipes, and information on congenital heart defects.

"More than 40,000 infants are diagnosed with congenital heart disease each year. At Trinitas all of our newborns receive a critical congenital heart disease screening before they go home, but some heart defects don't become known until the child is months or years old," states Gary S. Horan, FACHE, President & CEO of TRMC. "This is why we are so pleased to be part of a program that educates parents on congenital heart disease and informs them of symptoms they should look out for as their child ages."

Trinitas distributed nearly 100 kits during Congenital Heart Defect Awareness Week. Congenital heart defects are structural problems with the heart present at birth. They result when a mishap occurs during heart development soon after conception and often before the mother is aware that she is pregnant. Defects range in severity from simple problems, such as "holes" between chambers of the heart, to very severe malformations, such as complete absence of one or more of the heart's chambers or valves. According to the American Heart Association, it's possible to fix most congenital heart defects and there are an estimated 2 million CHD survivors in the United States.

Trinitas maintains a full-service cardiac facility as well as facilities for the intensive nursing care of patients with cardiac disease. These include a cardiac care unit, intermediate coronary care unit, cardiac catheterization lab, non-invasive cardiology services, full-service emergency department, and cardiac rehabilitation services. Trinitas and the American Heart Association hope to spread awareness about the advantages of a heart healthy family lifestyle to new mothers and families during American Heart Month in February.

To align with the Next Generation of Science Standards (NGSS), a multi-state effort to create new education standards, arranged in a coherent manner across all disciplines and grades, Township of Union School District has begun the Academy for Policy, Publishing and Debate. The program is offered to students at both Burnet and Kawameeh Middle Schools grades 6 to 8. The district's mission for the program is to supplement scientific writing, language arts, and to improve conflict resolution skills utilizing research and public debate. This will also support the benchmarks required for success in various district assessments.

The program will run on Wednesdays and Fridays, from 2:50 p.m. to 3:50 p.m., at the students respective Middle Schools. The academy officially began Wednesday, January 11, 2017 for all students who met the requirements, and will conclude on May 15, 2017.

The Academy was initially implemented by the Township's former Superintendent with the help and knowledge of Mr. Tommy Harrell, Vice Principal at Burnet Middle School, and current writer and administrator of the revamped program. Mr. Harrell worked with the former Superintendent to successfully run the academy for four years until funding issues caused it to cease. In early 2016, Central Office Administration along with Mr. Harrell began work on the first edit of the re-initiation of the program.

Students start each day off with the following mantra: "Seeds of Greatness," a reminder to students that they are gaining the knowledge needed each day to become great. Over the course of the next five months, students will be placed into different groups to research a variety of topics they will prepare for a debate. They choose an affirmative or negative stance and write a narrative describing their views. With the guidance of the academy's facilitators and mentors, students will begin to formulate their opinions and work together to find their voice, culminating with a formal debate where both sides can present their case. After both sides have presented, the groups will then go into a rebuttal phase where the opposing side will use research to show why their position is better. At the end of the debate session, a panel of facilitators will give feedback to each group based on the established rubric. Feedback will include areas of strengths and weaknesses and students will also be given the opportunity to give each other feedback (peer editing).

Those facilitators and mentors include current Union High School students who attended the academy while they were in middle school. In addition, industry leaders from JP Morgan Chase, Procter and Gamble, and Broadway have also signed on as mentors and educators. Students will learn about public speaking and communication skills from the likes of Actress Allison Williams as well as James Pazzaglia, Executive Director of Global Real Estate Development at Procter and Gamble in Cincinnati.

Mr. Harrell also met with educational leaders at several universities including Kean, Fairleigh Dickinson and Stockton to discuss the retooling of the program and to seek their expertise to help achieve success. Dean Claudine Keenan, Dean of Education at Stockton University was intrigued by the idea of the program and has offered to send staff members to help with the academy as well as be a panelist for the debates.

"Through the program, we are looking to instill confidence and self-assurance in our students not just academically, but also personally.

We want students to learn to research their points before making them," stated Harrell. Part of the re-initiation approach is to closely observe pre and post data to see how the students perform on the PARCC test as well as other assessments in comparison to other students.

The culminating activity for students will include a final debate for families and community leaders. There will also be an overnight stay at Stockton University where students and their mentors will engage in a debate with the top ten debaters from Burnet and Kawameeh competing. It will be competitive, but educational, and of course fun!

For more information on the academy, please do not hesitate to contact Mr. Tommy Harrell directly at tharrell@twpunionschools.org, (908) 851-4693

EDNA BAILEY CELEBRATED 55TH ANNIVERSARY AS DIRECTOR OF MUSIC MINISTRIES

On Sunday, January 29th, Edna Bailey celebrated her 55th anniversary as Director of Music Ministries at Townley Presbyterian Church, 829 Salem Road in Union. It was also a celebration of her retirement.

The congregation welcomed former choir members and other guests, to celebrate and honor Edna Bailey for fifty five years of music ministry at the church. The special service featured mostly music, led by Mrs. Bailey.

Former Pastors have commented "Edna is a consummate professional, and that the church's best energies were located primarily in the Chancel".

Bailey, a New Jersey native, graduated from Wyoming Seminary and Westminster Choir College. She moved to Union in 1960 with her husband James W Bailey Jr., and their daughters Sharon and Lynn.

Soon afterwards, she accepted the position of Director of Music Ministries at Townley Presbyterian Church. In addition to serving the church, she taught vocal music in the Roselle Park school system for 25 years. She also sang for many years with the Choral Art Society of New Jersey.

The Bailey family is a musical one - not only with daughters, but also with son-in-law Craig, grandchildren Sarah and Kyle, and Kyle's wife, Candace.

It was recently announced that the Township of Union will honor Rev. Dr. LL DuBreuil as "Woman of the Year" as a part of their Women's History Month Kickoff event on March 8th at 7:00pm at Town Hall, 1976 Morris Ave.

"Rev. DuBreuil is a shining example of leadership, compassion, unity and womanhood," said Mayor Suzette Cavadas. "She is a champion of people's rights and has left an undeniable impact on our community in her capacity at Faith United Church of Christ."

The March 8th event is centered on protecting women's rights - making her honor at this event that much more appropriate, Cavadas noted.

In addition, the program will feature a keynote speech by Diane DuBrule, Interim Executive Director of the American Civil Liberties Union of New Jersey, and a panel discussion featuring Elizabeth Meyer, Organizer of the Women's March on NJ; Lizette Delgado-Polanco, Deputy Political Director of the North Carpenter's Council; and Christine Sadovy, Advocacy Director of the Planned Parenthood Action Fund of NJ.

Rev. Dr. LL DuBreuil is the Pastor of Faith United Church of Christ in Union, New Jersey. She is graduate of Rutgers University and New Brunswick Theological Seminary. Dr. DuBreuil has also had careers in theater, business, and education.

The central theme of her life has been one of service and dedication to social justice issues. She is a frequent speaker at interfaith events and public forums as a community activist and advocate.

A native of Bristol PA, Dr. DuBreuil has lived and worked in Union for over 12 years.

She is delighted to be a part of this Women's History Month celebration and is dedicated to continuing to teach and preach the importance of community and justice.
